

Democrats Put Young Wife On Shuffled Slate

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE

Flint, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Five young men, three of them veterans, and an attractive young woman today had joined in a campaign to unseat the Sigler administration at Lansing.

Heading them was G. Mennen Williams, 37, a navy officer in World War II and John W. Connolly, 37, chosen at the primaries as the Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor.

The remainder were chosen Saturday in a wildly disorganized state Democratic convention.

The slate finally settled on was: Noel Fox, 38, Muskegon attorney who also served in the navy, for secretary of state; Stephen J. Roth, 40, Flint attorney and army veteran, for attorney general; Mrs. Margaret Price, 35, Ann Arbor Democratic worker and housewife, for auditor general and John J. Kozaren, 41, of Hamtramck, former Wayne county treasurer, for state treasurer. Burnett J. Abbott, Albion industrialist and unsuccessful candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, was included as secretary of state on a slate with the four men which was presented to the convention as it started an hour late.

Brucker Gets Sharp Reply From Black

It's His Move Now, Says Attorney General

Lansing, Sept. 27. (AP)—Attorney General Eugene F. Black today challenged former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker to "put up or shut me up."

Replying to Brucker's threat to sue him for slander, Black demanded that the former governor file the suit immediately in St. Clair county where Black resides so that the case could be heard before election day. He said that if suit were filed in Wayne county it would not be heard for a year.

Black indicated he might attempt to refuse service of a summons in Wayne county to force Brucker to bring the case into the St. Clair county courts.

A slander suit basically, Black said, "is a trial of a man's reputation. If he will sue me, I will go back to 1928 when he was attorney general and start in with some of the Grand Trunk land deals and come right down to the Colburn case."

"If Brucker's move and I'm calling him," Black said, "I shall find out now whether I should be disbarred for opening Brucker's box of sales tax parasites * * * or whether Brucker should be disbarred."

Advisors Will Help Sigler Refurbish Mansion in Lansing

Lansing, Sept. 27. (AP)—An advisory committee was appointed by Governor Sigler today to direct the refurbishing of a 74-year-old Lansing residence acquired for a governor's mansion.

The committee consists of Paul A. Martin, publisher of the Lansing State Journal, Mayor Ralph Crego of Lansing, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and State Controller John A. Perkins.

Sigler said the committee would advise whether the dwelling should merely be made habitable or should be substantially remodelled. Expressing the hope the dwelling would be a "purely Michigan project," Sigler said he hoped state associations of architects, landscape architects, furniture manufacturers and similar groups would assist in the project.

Wallace Goes South To Talk In Dallas

Aboard Wallace's Special Plane, Sept. 27. (AP)—Henry Wallace goes back to the south today.

At the very first stop he crosses paths with President Harry Truman—in Dallas, Texas, late this afternoon. And Wallace seized the occasion to challenge the president to follow the Progressive party policy by refusing to address race-segregated meetings.

Mr. Truman has scheduled an afternoon speech at the Dallas baseball park. Wallace, seeking votes as the Progressive party candidate for president, is due in Dallas around 5 p. m. after an all day flight from South Bend, Ind.

Major Candidates Soft-Pedal Politics In Sunday Speeches

(By The Associated Press)

The two major party presidential candidates returned to political campaigning today after a Sabbath lull in which both made peace pleas.

World peace is "more important than whether I'm president of the United States," President Truman told a dinner of Texas Democrats at San Antonio last night.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said in a statement at San Francisco that America is united on the Paris peace front. He called for peace prayers in the face of the "grave crisis in Berlin."

Both candidates shied away from outright politics in their Sunday utterances.

Dewey headed north into Oregon and Washington today with major speeches scheduled at Portland this afternoon and at Seattle tonight.

As he moved across Texas, Mr. Truman kept up his criticism of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress.

He took no notice of a challenge for southern talks on civil rights subjects. Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, states' rights presidential candidate, has called upon Mr. Truman to speak out on segregation, FEPC and similar subjects in Dixie.

The president, concluding his Texas visit today, had speeches scheduled for Fort Worth, Dallas and Bonham. He will speak in Oklahoma City Tuesday night.

Secret Talks With Russia Fail; Cold War At Crisis

Bevin Puts Full Blame On Moscow

Gloomy Outlook Seen By British Secretary

BY LOUIS NEVIN

Paris, Sept. 27. (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in a blistering attack on the Soviet Union said today the Russians alone would be responsible for a new world war.

United Nations assembly delegates cheered the British Foreign Secretary at the close of Britain's major policy speech in one of the greatest demonstrations in U. N. history.

Bevin, frequently departing from his prepared text, spoke to the assembly as the three western powers turned their Berlin dispute with the Russians over to the security council.

Bevin, addressing Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky directly, warned that Britain would defend herself against any Russian attack.

No Cheers From Reds
Vishinsky took notes throughout the Bevin speech.

Bevin accused the Russians of insincerity, untruthfulness and evasion. He declared, "with all the solemnity at my disposal," that "if the black fury, the incalculable disaster of atomic war should fall upon us, all I can say is, that one power . . . will alone be responsible for the evils which may be visited upon mankind."

When he had finished talking, all except the Russian delegates and their satellites jumped to their feet to cheer and applaud the British delegate.

Vishinsky strode from the hall, his face set in a grim mask, immediately after Bevin had finished.

The veterans set a precedent Saturday, however, by endorsing Frank G. Millard of Flint for attorney general in preference to another war veteran, Stuart B. White of Niles. Millard's withdrawal and White's nomination left the endorsement an empty gesture.

But officials said that hereafter, on a state, county and district level, G. O. P. war veterans will meet before nominating conventions and concentrate behind one veteran.

White's nomination Saturday was a victory for the careful "hands-off" policy of Governor Sigler, who wanted him nominated but refused to say so publicly.

White is chairman of the State Public Service commission and a loyal Sigler follower.

The rest of the incumbent Republican state officials were renominated without opposition in the dulllest G. O. P. convention in years.

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Auditor General Muriel K. Aten got the nod from the delegates with hardly a moment's waste motion.

Slav Sympathizers Shot; Nation Faces Famine

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 27. (AP)—Resistance to the Albanian government's split with Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has caused a reign of terror in Albania, according to press reports here.

The reports said Albanian authorities have issued orders for their militia to shoot on the spot anyone showing pro-Yugoslav sympathies.

The Montenegrin peoples front newspaper Pobeda, published in Tistein, capital of Montenegro, near the Albanian border, was the source of the dispatches printed in Belgrade.

The newspaper said many Albanians were fleeing into Yugoslavia, including army officers and militiamen. It was one of these militia who said he had received orders to shoot anyone showing sympathy for Tito.

Albania has aligned herself with the cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) in its denunciation of Tito. The split has cut the tiny country off from land communication with other Soviet satellites, since Albania's only neighbors are Yugoslavia and Greece.

Even before the split, it was reported that the daily food ration in Albania was only about 450 calories, about half the barest minimum required to keep a person alive. This was while Yugoslavia was helping feed the country. Now Albania faces famine during the coming winter.

Collapse of Berlin Movie Theater Roof Kills 18 Germans

Berlin, Sept. 27. (AP)—Eighteen Germans were killed last night and nine others were injured when the roof of a Berlin motion picture theater collapsed.

Tons of plaster crashed into a block of about 80 seats in the Pamel Kino in downtown Schoenberg in the U. S. sector of Berlin.

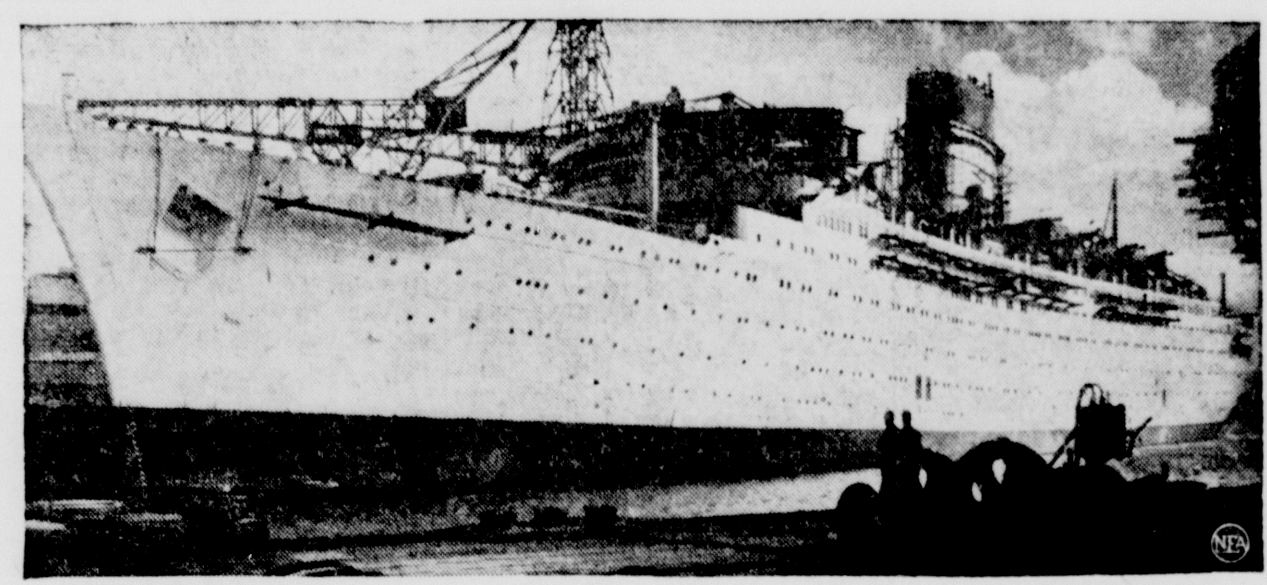

The area was bombed heavily during the war and the roof may have been weakened then.

GERMAN ART PACKED

Stock Market Hit Bu Selling Wave And Prices Slump
New York, Sept. 27. (AP)—The Berlin crisis touched off selling in the stock market today that sent prices from 1 to 4 points lower.

Railroads were under the heaviest pressure of any group with stocks, oils, metals and motors joining the decline.

Initial trading was heavy with the volume 350,000 in the first hour as large blocks of stock changed hands at the depressed prices. In later trading the pace slackened somewhat but continued at the fastest rate in a number of days.

State G. O. P. Has Dull Convention; Veterans Active

BY JACK I. GREEN

Detroit, Sept. 27. (AP)—Republican war veterans have served notice they will play a stronger part in G. O. P. state campaigns.

The party's veteran organization made its first bid for influence at the state convention in Detroit Saturday and came on second best, but it warned that in future campaigns it expects to have more to say.

In the past the organization has declined to take sides when two ex-servicemen are competing for their backing.

The veterans set a precedent Saturday, however, by endorsing Frank G. Millard of Flint for attorney general in preference to another war veteran, Stuart B. White of Niles. Millard's withdrawal and White's nomination left the endorsement an empty gesture.

But officials said that hereafter, on a state, county and district level, G. O. P. war veterans will meet before nominating conventions and concentrate behind one veteran.

White's nomination Saturday was a victory for the careful "hands-off" policy of Governor Sigler, who wanted him nominated but refused to say so publicly.

White is chairman of the State Public Service commission and a loyal Sigler follower.

The rest of the incumbent Republican state officials were renominated without opposition in the dulllest G. O. P. convention in years.

Speedy U.N. Action Urged In Palestine

Bernadotte's Plan Seen As Hope For Peace

Paris, Sept. 27. (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Bevin today urged speedy United Nations action on Count Folke Bernadotte's recommendations for Palestine. He called it "the best hope for healing the breach" between Arabs and Jews.

Bevin reiterated his country's support for the Holy Land solution offered by the slain mediator "in its entirety" in Britain's major policy address to the general assembly.

In the draft of his speech distributed by the foreign office before he began he warned "hostilities might break out again" if no decision is taken within the next few weeks.

In his delivery, however, Bevin deleted this statement.

"The United States and France also are backing the Bernadotte plan, which calls for recognition that a Jewish state exists and for Jerusalem to be an international city. The Arabs have opposed it and Jews have criticized some of it."

"The successful establishment of the truce was due in large part to the devotion and courage of Bernadotte, whose tragic death will cast its shadow over our discussion of Palestine at the present session of the assembly," Bevin said.

Bernadotte Funeral Held In Stockholm

Stockholm, Sept. 27. (AP)—Funeral services were held here yesterday for Count Folke Bernadotte, assassinated U. N. mediator for Palestine.

Last rites in the Gustav Vasa church were attended by the aged King Gustaf V, diplomats and representatives of the United Nations.

The body was cremated at a simple ceremony attended by the family, including Bernadotte's American widow, the former Esther Manville.

Allies Turn Berlin Fight Over To UN

Soviets Are Accused Of Threatening Peace

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 27. (AP)—The complete collapse of secret talks with Russia over the Berlin crisis advanced the cold war to a new and highly explosive stage today. Authorities are frankly uncertain what may happen next.

Both President Truman and Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey are being kept closely posted while the United States, Britain and France take their case against the Soviet blockade of the German capital into the public arena of the United Nations security council.

Long Struggle Ahead
The failure of the secret diplomacy which the western powers have been practicing in the hope of reaching a settlement with the Kremlin was revealed by the state department last midnight.

At that hour the department made public a 3,000-word note accusing Russia of bad faith in the Berlin negotiations and of creating "a threat to international peace."

Published at the same time was a heretofore secret record of 24,000 words which top diplomats said proves the Soviets are bent upon using the "illegal" blockade to force the western powers out of the German capital.

Thus it appears that instead of an end to the blockade, which Premier Stalin agreed to on August 23, the world now is in for a further, prolonged east-west struggle over the city.

The difference is that from here on the issue will be before the security council meeting in Paris with world public opinion as a stake.

New Clashes Impending
Russia's continued membership in the U. N. is in grave doubt.

New east-west clashes in Berlin are feared here.

And the dangers of shooting incidents that could lead to open conflict are not ruled out by best-informed authorities.

These experts are more uncertain than ever as to how far the Soviets will go in creating incidents aimed at making Berlin untenable for the western powers.

The heavy volume of documents which the state department released as a "white paper" to show what really occurred in the negotiations over Berlin dealt at length with the role of Premier Stalin and the unexpected breakdown that occurred after he had agreed the blockade should be lifted.

American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and the envoys of Britain and France had two meetings with the Soviet premier and Foreign Minister Molotov. The first of these took place on August 2 in the Kremlin. Stalin, at the end of two hours of talk, indicated he was ready to settle the Berlin situation without delay.

Stalin Agreeable
He said, according to the state department record, that Soviet occupation currency should be used throughout Berlin and that simultaneously with its acceptance by the west "all transport restrictions" that is the blockade "would be removed."

He also agreed that he would not insist on having the western powers scrap their plans for a regional government in western Germany, although it was the "insistent wish" of his government that the plans should be abandoned.

Stalin's readiness to trade an end to the blockade in return for acceptance of Soviet currency in the western sectors of Berlin then became the basis of three weeks of negotiations between the western envoys and Molotov.

Meanwhile Stalin was told that while the plans for the western German government would not be abandoned, the date of September 1 was not a firm date for making those plans completely effective; also, that the western German program would not rule out a later agreement with the Soviets on political and economic unification of all Germany.

The second meeting Stalin occurred on August 28 resulted in a "final agreement in principle" between Russia and the western powers that (a) The blockade should be unconditionally lifted and (b) The west would accept Soviet currency in its sectors of Berlin but under four-power rather than single Soviet control.

Around those major points, the four governments sent instructions to their military commanders in Germany to make the agreement effective in detail.

Bad Faith Pops Up
It was at this point that the alleged bad faith occurred, according to the record, began trying to attach conditions which the United States, Britain and France considered a violation of their agreement with Stalin. In the main, the Russian commander sought to insist that with the lifting of the blockade the Soviets would take control of all transportation into Berlin, including air transport.

The western powers stood firm. They feared that would allow the Russians to impose a new blockade at any time and west then would be unable to overcome it with the same kind of air lift that so far has minimized the effect of the present land blockade.

From that point on, the east-west negotiations went down hill fast.

The records show that the negotiators put aside the transport issue for a time and sought to work out details of the currency deal. Here again Sokolovsky held out for conditions which the west felt would give the Russians effective control over all currency in Berlin.

It was on this point that the recent or more who have dependents may qualify for increased compensation, but they must be receiving compensation for service-connected conditions.

Shifts In Earth Levels Foreshadow Map Changes

Washington, D. C.—A five-foot drop in level at the east end of Terminal Island, sharpest of numerous falls and rises of land recorded since 1931 in the Los Angeles area, is a reminder that, like political maps, physical maps are far from static, says the National Geographic Society.

Six-mile-long Terminal Island, center of the region's big fishing and canning industry, lies two-thirds in Los Angeles and one-third in Long Beach. It is a largely man-made unit in the great, artificial Los Angeles-Long Beach harbor with its shipbuilding plants, Navy Pacific Fleet Base, and piers used by 200 steamship lines.

Shift Causes Vary
Subsidence of as much as half a foot a year is currently recorded at points on the harbor shores.

Newer wharves have been built two or more feet above what would be their normal level to allow for this sinking of the land.

Elsewhere in the spreading Los Angeles area, slow subsidence is noted near Venice and San Pedro on the coast, and inland at Watts, Signal Hill, Santa Ana, and West Hollywood. Near Inglewood and on the outskirts of Long Beach, areas of slight upthrust of the land level are recorded.

Subsidence in some cases, as at Signal Hill and south of Venice is due to land compression following removal of oil, gas, or water from negotiations in Berlin finally broke down, early this month.

There followed an exchange of notes between Moscow and the western capitals. Washington, London and Paris tried to get Stalin to send new instructions to Sokolovsky ordering him to live up to the terms of the original August 23 agreement.

This Russia, in effect, refused to do so Saturday. As a result of this refusal Secretary of State Marshall, British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman decided yesterday to throw the whole case into the United Nations security council.

With that decision the secret, direct negotiations undertaken by American officials in the hope that the Russians wanted a face-saving way out of the Berlin crisis came to naught.

underground. On every continent, similar instances of downslinking, due to removal of underlying material by Nature or by man, are common. Coal-mine cave-ins are examples.

Other changes at Los Angeles are due to shifts in the earth's crust that might be called slow-motion earthquakes. These usually occur along such rifts as the St. Andreas Fault, which extends southward from San Francisco past Los Angeles to Mexico. This fault was the line of shock in 1906, when violent tremors plunged San Francisco into a disaster which took more than 600 lives.

East Has Its Shifts
Just 50 years ago, a violent quake in Alaska lifted some coast stretches 50 feet, caused other sections to drop in level. No casualties occurred in the wild region.

East of the Rockies, two severe earthquakes are part of American history. A shift in sedimentary layer caused 30 deaths near Charleston, S. C., in 1886. Three jolts in the winter of 1811-12 altered the landscape of the lower Mississippi Valley, creating Reelfoot Lake in Tennessee and smaller lakes along the St. Francis River in Missouri. Consequences in each case would be far more serious at today's levels of population.

Niagara May Run Dry
A slow but certain change in the tilt of land all around the Great Lakes has been in progress for millenniums, geologists note. Eastern Canada rises a foot or so each century, while the lakes press harder on their southern and western shores.

Time was when Lake Huron drained out Georgian Bay and north to the Ottawa River, and the Ohio River's ancient counterpart flowed from the Appalachians northwestward to Lake Michigan.

A mere 5,000 years hence—about the time Niagara Falls has worn its crest back up the river to Lake Erie—the tilt may close Lake Erie's mouth into the Niagara River. Then the four Great Lakes (excepting Ontario) will probably find an outlet via Lake Michigan past Chicago, southwest to the Mississippi Valley.

Capt. Joseph Wood Dies In Cleveland

Cleveland, O.—Capt. Joseph S. Wood, grand old man of Great Lakes shipping, died in St. Luke's hospital in Cleveland, after a short illness.

Capt. Wood, born in 1874 in Forsythe, Mich., the iron ore country, began his lakes career as an oiler in 1893, and at the time of his death had been captain, president of the Wilson Transit Co., head of the Lake Carriers' Association and director of many important shipping and coal firms.

He had retired from many of his directorships, but retained offices with the Great Lakes Towing Co., Lake Carriers and American Ship Building Co.

Among his previous interests were North American Coal Co., Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway Cleveland Coal & Dock Co. and the United Coal & Dock Co. He also had been on the board of the American Bureau of Shipping. At his death, he was chairman of the board of Wilson Transit.

His son, Alexander T. Wood, also is a past president of the Lake Carriers' Association and is now president of Wilson Transit.

From his start as an oiler, Capt. Joe, as he was familiarly known, became a watchman on the old whaleback Bartlett in 1894, and rose successively to become captain of the old Volunteer when he was 24.

He sailed as a master for 14 years, until brought ashore and made marine superintendent of Wilson. Upon the death of A. W. Thompson in 1928, Capt. Wood was made president of the company. He retired as president early this year.

In the Middle Ages, hunting and fishing rights on his holdings were universally reserved for the lord of the manor.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED BY CAR

Jacob Laine, 61, Struck
Early Sunday

Jacob J. Laine, 61, of 1600 Ludington street, was killed early Sunday morning when he was struck by an automobile driven by Lloyd M. Brown, 207 North 20th street. The accident occurred at the intersection of Ludington street and 16th street at 2:20 a. m. Laine died at St. Francis hospital at 5:30 o'clock, Sunday morning.

Laine was crossing Ludington street north to south on the east crosswalk when he was struck by Brown's automobile. Brown told police that he did not see Laine but heard the thud when his car hit the pedestrian. Laine was tossed over the car and struck his head on the pavement. He sustained head and chest injuries, a broken leg and other injuries. He died at St. Francis hospital with out regaining consciousness.

Brown said he was traveling only about 20 miles per hour at the time of the accident. A companion, Carol Aronson, 1116 South 14th street, also said that she did not see the pedestrian before the car struck Laine.

Police are continuing their investigation of the accident. Brown was ticketed for reckless driving but local police intimated that a more serious offense may be charged against Brown as a result of Laine's death.

Laine has no known relatives.

State Golf Pros Defeat Amateurs

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 27 (P) — Eight of the state's top ranking pros defeated the eight best amateurs, 6 1/2 to 5 1/2, in the 12 Even Howell Trophy tournament here yesterday.

It was the pros' fifth consecutive team triumph. Sam Byrd and Horton Smith of the pros set an all-time Michigan record for best ball competition when they teamed for an 11 under par 61 at the Walnut Hills course.

Both had approximate individual cards of 67 over the 6,532-yard layout. Smith, Detroit golf club pro and recent winner of the Michigan PGA, rapped in seven birdies. Byrd, unattached Detroit pro, had six birdies with two of them on the same holes that Smith birdied.

The Detroiters fired it against Chuck Kocis, Michigan amateur champ, and Tommy Sheehan of Oakland Hills. Kocis and Sheehan had a creditable 64 but lost 4 and 3.

Driver Unhurt in Fall from Bridge

Richard Viau, 221 East Superior street, Munising, escaped unhurt from his automobile at 2 a. m. this morning after it crashed through the guard rail of a bridge in Bark River township and fell ten feet to the bottom of Ten Mile creek. Sheriff's officers investigated the accident and reported the car was going west on county road B-7 at the time of the accident.

Registration For General Election Closes October 13

Escanaba residents who are not already registered to vote here may register up to and including Oct. 13 for the general election November 2.

The state law requires that registration for an election be closed 20 days before the day of the election. Persons who have voted at least once in the last two years are not required to re-register. Persons who have moved to Escanaba may vote here after a residence of 20 days if they moved from another part of Michigan. Six months residence within the state is required for eligibility to vote in Michigan.

Registrations will be accepted at the city clerk's office.

Alarm Clock Used In Nightly Looting Of Ingham Burglar

Leslie, Mich., Sept. 27 (P) — A wounded prisoner, described by village Marshal Ralph Dershem as an "alarm clock burglar" was held in the Ingham county jail today. Dershem said he arrested William J. Raulie, 19, after shooting him in the hip during a nighttime burglary of a local grocery store which had been robbed for five successive nights.

He said Raulie had been in the habit of setting his alarm clock for 3 a. m. each morning so that he could arise and rob the store. Dershem said he hid in the store Friday night in an attempt to capture the burglar but gave it up at 3 a. m. and went home. The store was robbed again later that night.

Dershem said Raulie had black socks over his hands when arrested. He explained Raulie, ordered to hold up his hands, dropped some candy bars and money and reached down to catch them. Dershem said he thought the youth was reaching for a gun and shot him. He said Raulie was on parole from the Cassidy Lake prison camp.

Japanese Artist, 57, Confesses Poisoning 12 In Bank Robbery

Tokyo, Sept. 27 (P) — Authorities announced today that a 57-year-old Japanese artist confessed the bizarre poison robbery of a Tokyo bank in which 12 bank employees were killed.

The Tokyo procurators office said Sadamichi Hirazawa, who has been under questioning more than a month, finally had admitted administering a deadly poison to the employees and fleeing with a large amount of yen Jan. 26.

The bank employees were induced to take the poison by a simple ruse: The bank robber posed as an official of the welfare ministry, entered the bank at closing time and said he had been ordered to give all workers medicine.

Sixteen employees drank the "medicine." Eleven died within a few minutes. The alarm was given by a dying employee who struggled to a telephone.

Hirazawa was picked up because he possessed large sums of Speakers in the divisional programs include Elizabeth Irwin, on "Toward Self-Discipline"; Clyde M. Paust, on "Here Is the Crossroad," and Clyde Campbell, director of teacher placement Michigan State college, on "The Emblems of Educational Leadership."

Flying Group Lands Without Lights At Newberry Airport

Newberry, Mich. — Five flyers from the Mt. Pleasant Flying school in Lower Michigan made a night landing without lights at the Newberry airport late Saturday.

They were: Robert J. Amon, Cliff Petoskey, John Foster, Charles R. Wheelock and Herman Wessendorf.

Two other members of the Mt. Pleasant flying group were forced down on a highway Saturday near Trout Creek, in the western section of the Upper Peninsula. They were Everett Perry and Dale Smalley.

No damage was done to the planes. The flyers continued on their return trip to Mt. Pleasant Sunday.

Mrs. John Beer, Former Escanaban Dies In Milwaukee

Mrs. John Beer, 68, 2707 West Cherry street, Milwaukee, a former resident of Escanaba and mother of Mrs. Ray Hemminger of this city, died Saturday morning at County Emergency hospital. She had been in poor health for five years, but was seriously ill only a week. Pneumonia caused her death.

She was born in Petoskey July 26, 1880 and came to Escanaba in 1914, moving to Milwaukee five years ago.

Surviving are her husband, and the following children: Mrs. Ray (Gwen) Hemminger, Escanaba; Mrs. Herbert (Bernice) Helmore, Green Bay; Mrs. Russell (Pauline) Johnson, Lena, Wis.; Ray, Milwaukee; Mrs. Lawrence (Madeleine) Fitzgerald, Sunnyside, Wash., and Bernard, Iron Mountain; 14 grandchildren; two brothers, Joseph Dunne, Petoskey, and Frank of Flint, and two sisters, Mrs. Fay Pratt and Mrs. Charles Drayton, both of Flint.

Services will be held at 9 a. m. Tuesday at St. Joseph's church with Rev. Fr. Patrick O. F. M., officiating, and burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery. The body is in state at the Allo funeral home.

Motorist Held as Drunken Driver

Napoleon Roy, of Escanaba, has been arrested by local police on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Roy was arrested this morning as a result of an accident that occurred Sunday night. A car driven by Roy struck a parked truck owned by Harry Winchester, Rte. One, Gladstone, on the 1500 block of Sheridan Road, police said. Roy left the car at the scene of the accident.

RECKLESS DRIVING
Conrad Driscoll, jr., of 1406 First avenue south, was arrested for reckless driving in Escanaba by local police Sunday. He has not yet been arraigned in Justice court.

Three Bridges In County in Need of Emergency Repairs

Three Delta county bridges today are in need of emergency repairs so that traffic can be maintained, with two of the bridges on school bus routes, it was reported today by William Karas, road commission superintendent-engineer.

Repairs were scheduled to start today on a bridge carrying county road 1-2 over the west branch of the Whitefish river in North Delta, where the bridge abutment collapsed. Today a school bus broke through floor planks on the Ogontz river bridge on county road 422. The bus was not damaged and no one was hurt.

On county road B-7 in Bark River township a car broke through a guard rail on the Ten Mile creek bridge, making it unsafe for traffic until repairs are made.

The road commission in meeting Saturday morning discussed the necessity for repairing a number of county bridges, and cited the lack of funds to undertake such a program.

The commission also discussed with North Delta representatives a plan to meet with members of the Alger county road commission on a request for a three-quarter mile road extension. The extension is on the Alger-Delta line and would connect with Delta county road 1-2.

There were about 1,600,000 business firms in the United States in 1900 and about 3,796,000 in 1947.

Home At Germfask Destroyed By Fire

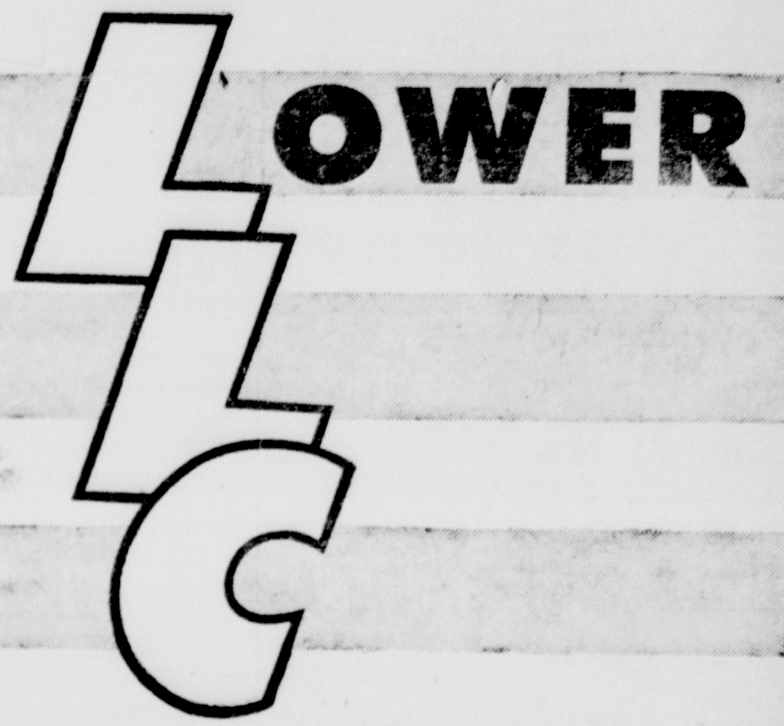

Germfask, Mich.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Burns, Germfask was destroyed by fire Friday morning about ten o'clock when a gasoline cooking stove exploded.

Mrs. Burns was bathing her one month old son when she discovered the fire. She immediately wrapped the nude infant in a blanket and with her 14 month old son left the house. Seconds after the house was enveloped in flames.

Mr. Burns was at work but a neighbor, Mrs. V. Nickerson happened to call just as the fire was discovered, so she ran for help which brought out the local volunteer fire department.

The fire was brought under control in a short time but not until the house and contents were almost a complete loss.

The house was located across the street from the local school and was owned by Polimir Lawrence. The building was partially covered by insurance.

By-Passing The U. P.

OFFICIALS of Wisconsin Central Airlines will have to do some speedy explaining to Upper Peninsula cities which Wisconsin Central has chosen to by-pass the Upper Peninsula in the extension of airline service October 1.

The airline has repeatedly told Upper Peninsula cities that it would extend service to this area under the franchise already granted to it by the Civil Aeronautics Board when Green Bay's airport is ready. Wisconsin Central explained that Green Bay was the key to the extension of air service northward. Green Bay's new airport is now completed and service will be extended to Green Bay on October 1, but the flight schedules announced by Wisconsin Central do not include any Upper Peninsula points.

Airports at Menominee, Iron Mountain and Houghton already have earned CAA approval. The Escanaba and Marquette airports will be completed soon. These cities want to know why Wisconsin Central, which secured a franchise to operate in the Upper Peninsula, has chosen to delay service to the area. The Upper Peninsula cities are fully justified in protesting to the Civil Aeronautics Board. Wisconsin Central either should exercise its franchise to serve the Upper Peninsula or yield the franchise to an air company that will serve the area.

Soviet Papers Banned

IT is with misgivings that the U. S. military government banned all Soviet-sponsored newspapers and other publications from the American zone of Germany. Suppression of newspapers and periodicals is contrary to American tradition. In fact, such action is prohibited in this country by the Bill of Rights. It is also in violation of an agreement reached at the Moscow foreign ministers conference in 1947. However, the action taken by the American military government was the only course of action that could reasonably have been taken under the circumstances. The agreement was first breached by Russia in prohibiting the distribution of western-licensed newspapers in the Russian zone and the Soviet sector of Berlin.

In banning Americans and western-licensed publications, the Russians showed how little they respect their agreements with foreign powers.

It would have been ridiculous to permit Soviet papers to be distributed in the American zone at a time when American papers are banned in the Soviet zone. For one thing, the Germans in all probability would mistake that as a sign of weakness. The Russians most certainly would do so. It is regrettable that Russia has seen fit to nullify the agreement on the free exchange of information throughout Germany's four occupation zones.

Science Not Fitted To Rule World

SCIENCE offers "the best hope of mankind's becoming one world in purpose and objectives," says the centennial program of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

It offers the following reasons to bolster an understanding of science: "Science is universal. It recognizes no national boundaries, is limited by no racial prejudices, follows no dogma or party line. Whether a discovery in science is made by an Englishman, a Russian or a Japanese is not important. All that matters is the soundness of the work itself. When a scientific paper is published no one asks if it was written by a Negro, a Roman Catholic, a Jew or a Seventh Day Adventist. The paper is judged by what it is, not by who did the research which it reports."

The trouble with the reasoning is that the AAAS spokesman is writing about the world of science, not the world in which scientists must live. When he neglects to limit his observations to the world of science he invites the suspicion that he is paying no attention to what is going on outside his laboratory. The fact that he is writing in an AAAS publication, and apparently with the association's approval, does little to recommend scientists as the instruments of world unity.

Who can remember Hitler's nazification of German science and still say that no one asks the race or religion of the scientist? Who can read of today's sovietized science in Russia and say that science follows no party line?

The scientists seem to forget that they do not market their own product. Their discoveries pass into the hands of government or private commerce. The scientists and those who develop and exploit these discoveries are bound by the laws and policies of the government under which they live. Thus applied science can be intensely nationalistic.

But pure science is not hampered by bigotry and prejudice. Then, one might ask, why not let the scientists run the world's governments in this scientific age?

The flaw in that idea is that science has no morals, either. It is an impersonal, emotionless pursuit.

Pure science has never balked at its function of uncovering and utilizing the mysteries of nature. And even if its practitioners were empowered to apply science to every-day life as heads of government, there is no assurance that their professional lack of morality or their unprofessional human emotions would permit them to do better than the laymen are doing today.

If there is ever to be world unity, it still seems that the only force that can achieve it is the force of individual morality and humanity exerted through world governments. We doubt that the American Association for the Advancement of Science can produce such a force. What is probably needed is an International Society for the Elimination of Human Cussedness.

Letter Of The Law

RELEASE of high school students from classes for a period of several days during the potato harvest has come to be an established practice in this potato producing area, so it comes as quite a surprise to learn that the federal government has a law designed to prevent it.

Principal Carl Olson of the Manistique high school quoted the law last week. Presumably Manistique high school students no longer will be released from classes to help with the potato harvest in Schoolcraft county.

The purpose of the law is understandable enough. In years past, it was difficult to convince some farmers that they should send their children to school beyond the eighth grade. When a farm boy became old enough to be of considerable help on the farm, all too frequently the parents took the boy out of school. The federal law obviously was designed to prevent that.

We have no doubt that the law is broad enough to prohibit the release of students from classes to assist with the potato harvest. However, we doubt that much harm is done to a student's educational program by excusing him from a classroom for a few days to harvest potatoes. There is a certain amount of education in a potato field, too.

Without the assistance from school children, the problem of harvesting the heavy potato crop in Delta and surrounding counties would be serious, indeed.

Sometimes a practical application of a law is more within the public interest than an application based entirely upon the letter of the law. We think that is true in this case.

AIR PARCEL POST (Marquette Mining Journal)

A new type of postal service has been inaugurated. It is now possible to ship packages weighing up to 70 pounds by air parcel post with reasonable assurance of 24-hour delivery in most places in the United States.

This service is available to western Europe and some 20 Latin American countries. Domestic rates will vary from 55 cents for the first pound and 4 cents for each additional pound up to a high of 80 cents a pound, depending upon the destination zone.

The public will not be the only beneficiary of the new service. It long has been a pet project of the airlines and finally was brought forth by the Eightieth Congress. In addition to supplying additional tonnage, it is expected to relieve the airlines of the worrisome problem of handling small packages which hitherto have been sent by air freight or express. There is no experience as yet to determine whether the rates to be charged are related to the actual cost of carrying air parcel post, which will be handled on the same basis as regular air mail. It goes without saying that any economies effected in the carrying of larger bulk ought to be reflected in lower cost to the government. In any case, air parcel post is a welcome addition to the already impressive operations of the U. S. mail.

DON'T MAKE THEM WAIT (Detroit News)

Draft registration was muddled the first day by lack of preparation on the part of a majority of the boards. The difficulty in peacetime of assembling volunteer staffs had not been anticipated. Possibly the need for volunteers had not been sufficiently publicized. In any event there were too few workers on hand to prevent long lines from forming at most stations.

The need to remedy this goes without saying. Most of the young men registering are employed and the time spent at it means monetary loss. Besides which it is unbearably that those who already have served their country or are about to be called to its service should be put to unnecessary inconvenience.

Now that the need is clear, there no doubt will be enough volunteers to speed the registration. It would reflect sadly on Detroit's peacetime patriotism if there were not.

The majority of folks go to a lot of trouble they should avoid.

Social Upheaval In U. S. Capital

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN

Washington. (NEA)—A really significant straw-in-the-wind has just been revealed. It has discouraged the Democrats about as much as anything that has happened since Mrs. Perle Mesta became known as "Two-Party Perle" by starting to entertain the Republicans.

The special board in charge of the publication, "The Social List of Washington," is preparing to put out a supplement in November, after the election. The significance of this is obvious. It means that the brainy members of this board believe that the Republicans stand a pretty good chance of winning. Their record on predictions is pretty good. Two years ago they made plans for a supplement, anticipating the Republican landslide in Congress.

When there's a political upheaval in the country the sensitive tenor of Washington social life is immediately affected. Women who may have been social lions yesterday suddenly become cocktail party cast-offs when the ungrateful voters fail to reelect their husbands.

TURNOVERS SHAKE UP GREEN BOOK
After the GOP captured Congress two years ago the supplement to The Social List of Washington, called the Green Book, included about 500 deletions and additions.

Miss Carolyn Hagner Shaw, the woman who supervises the printing of the Green Book, with the advice and consent of the board, estimates that if the Republicans do win, the supplement will have to carry close to 3000 changes. There are about 5000 names in it in all. Miss Shaw is already pretty distressed about the number of changes which have to be made in the regular issue about to come off the press. She says:

"It's just dreadful what death and divorces have done to Washington social life. And the way the unfortunate military people here have been transferred out of town is shocking. Nobody'll know anybody else at parties this fall, I'm sure."

In New York and other large cities, it's usually family background which determines a place in the social register. In Washington, according to Miss Shaw, that's important, too, but she admits frankly that official rank is the deciding factor. A change in administration therefore would remove approximately 2000 persons automatically from the Green Book. The other 1000 likely to be affected are the relatives of the officials who would lose their standing.

KEEP AN EYE ON PERLE MESTA

Shrewd political observers are going to watch carefully the entertaining which Mrs. Perle Mesta does during the fall season. She's the town's top hostess. Mrs. Mesta has always shown an uncanny ability to honor persons whose political prominence is on the upgrade. Soon after Harry Truman was elected vice president she began tossing elaborate affairs for him and his family. Later that gave her a key to the White House front door.

She got the title of Two-Party Perle when she suddenly switched her inexhaustible party budget last year in behalf of certain prominent Republicans. An elaborate whing-ding for Speaker Joe Martin was the first. If she starts to give the cold shoulder to the Democrats this fall, they might as well throw in the towel, the experts believe.

It has been so long since a Republican-dominated social season has existed in Washington even the memories of the old-timers are a little fuzzy about what to expect in case one comes. Generally, in the past, under GOP administrations, the social whirl has been fairly conservative. That, however, was before that magic medium of mele, the cocktail party, was favored. Big formal dinners were the favorite indoor sport and the guests stuffed so much on the fine food, the alcohol intake was limited. Bicarbonate of soda was the next-day remedy instead of a bromo seltzer.

If Mrs. Mesta's shift in political affection, however, doesn't find her at the top of the social heap, there is interesting speculation on who might take her crown. Again, if the Republicans win, it's possible that Alice Roosevelt Longworth might once more become queen of the city. She crawled into an exclusive social clique when her cousin Franklin Roosevelt first took permanent residence in the White House. Another candidate is Mrs. Robert Low Bacon, widow of a socialist congressman from Long Island.

Whatever happens the experts predict that the season will produce its usual quota of good clean fun.

were a Reader's Digest and three LIVES." By "Lives" the author meant three copies of Life. The title Life is not pluralized like the word Life. The author should have written "... and three Lives," although "... three copies of Life" would be less awkward.

Heard at a luncheon club: "... posing for the Russians a tremendous problem in log-ISS-tyks." The word used is logistics, "military transportation and supply, and movement of bodies of troops." The "g" is not hard as in "log." It should have the sound of "j," thus: loe-JISS-tyks.

A song writer of Verona, N. J., wants to use the expression "prelude to sorrow" in her lyrics. She is undecided how to pronounce prelude. Dictionary first choice is: PRELL-yood. The commonly heard "PREE-lood" is now sanctioned by a few of the newer dictionaries as second choice; so is: PREE-lyood. My own preference, doubtless because of my musical education, is: PRELL-yood. I recommend it, especially for radio announcers.

Mr. Colby's Lie-Lay, Sit-Set pamphlet makes these confusing word-nairs as simple as ABC. The non-technical key does the trick. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to him, care of the Escanaba Daily Press, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

NEED WILL COME—If the Delta County Historical Society had a place to keep a collection of museum items and a person to care for them it would be only a short time until many important articles were received. That time must wait, however, for the establishment and maintenance of a museum entails considerable expense.

Dunathan

Several members of the Historical Society have been presented with articles for a Delta county museum collection. These will be preserved until the time the museum is established, and meanwhile will be used in displays to further impress the people of the community with their heritage of local history.

Alfred Groos of Groos, treasurer of the Historical Society, displayed to the Society's executive committee in recent meeting a fine example of copper work by prehistoric Indians of Delta county. It was found in 1936 by the late Otto Granskog on the Granskog farm near Chippewa Point on the Big Bay de Noc side of the Sturgeon Peninsula.

The copper implement is chisel-shaped, about eight inches long, and its cutting edge is hard, as if tempered. With other artifacts of the prehistoric Indian it will have an important place in that future Delta county museum.

THE FIRST HOME—Alfred Groos is currently conducting an investigation to locate—if that is possible—the old Louis Roberts homestead on the banks of the Escanaba river. Roberts is generally recognized by local historians as the first white settler in Delta county, who farmed and built a sawmill along with his trading. That was back in the 1830's.

But the site of the Louis Roberts home has never been definitely located, so far as the Historical Society is aware. Groos believes he has found it. His knowledge of the area, together with a search of old records, may reveal the spot where Roberts and his Indian wife lived, and where the Indians of the area came to trade.

MORE JAIL TROUBLE—Over in Gogebic county the board of supervisors is involved in jail troubles, the same as the Delta and Schoolcraft county boards will be when they meet in October.

For a jail inspector (who forgot to sign his letter, incidentally) has condemned the Gogebic county jail. Presumably it was the same inspector who ordered the immediate closing of the Schoolcraft county jail at Manistique, and the closing within 90 days of the Delta county jail in Escanaba.

The Schoolcraft jail is a frame structure, the Gogebic county jail has a wooden stairway to the second floor. But the Delta county jail is as nearly fireproof as any building in the city.

One thing stands out in the inspector's report to the supervisors in the three counties. In every instance he lauds and commends the sheriff for his operation of the jail.

ROADS AND MONEY—At a Saturday morning meeting of the Delta county road commission Supervisor E. W. Carlson of Perkins asked some pertinent questions

Gladstone—Miss Mercedes LaRoche, Chicago, is spending the week visiting here as the guest of Miss Elaine McCormick, Delta avenue.

Twenty Years Ago

Manistique—Miss Helen Crowe will leave this week for New York City where she has accepted a position.

Gladstone—Mrs. E. L. Carrington and infant daughter, Helen, returned to their home Wednesday from the St. Francis hospital in Escanaba.

concerning road department financing.

"People are asking me why the road commission bought all that new equipment when it has so little money to operate on," Supervisor Carlson said. "They want to know why the townships should be asked to help the road commission when it spent so much for new equipment."

The answers came from Commissioners Harry Greene of Garden, chairman, Hilding Norstrom of Gladstone and Henry Wylie of Escanaba, plus some comments by Bill Karas, commission superintendent-engineer.

They pointed out that new equipment was not obtainable during the war; that many of the county's road trucks were 20 years old; that the annual cost of repairing these old trucks was as great as the cost of financing the purchase of new equipment.

"I know people are talking about it," said Chairman Greene. "But it's the same as paying repair bills on an old car. The difference is that our equipment really gets some tough use and it costs more money when it breaks down."

REALLY A SAVING—Superintendent Karas pointed out that aside from the assurance of good service to the public, there is an actual saving in buying new equipment rather than paying big bills for new parts to put on old equipment.

"No matter how many high-priced parts you put in, you still have an old truck," he said. "When we get through paying out for the new trucks they will be new, anyway. And you know how auto repairs have gone up in price."

The commissioners agreed that unless new equipment had not been absolutely necessary they would not have purchased this new, but they did consider it good business to buy new rather than pay high repair bills—and have nothing to show for the money.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York. (AP)—Inspiration, says Ferde Grofe, is like a little bird:

"If you don't grab him when you can, he flies right out the window."

So Grofe, a master of modern American musical composition, doesn't allow the little bird to take to wing.

He carries a musical scratch pad with him wherever he goes and scribbles down tune phrases as they come to him—at home, on trains, in taxicabs. In this way he carries out the function he best likes—to be a tonal reporter of his own land.

Jack Of All Trades

At 56 the short, roly-poly composer is busy as ever, adding steadily to a total of nearly 200 finished compositions.

Grofe is a kind of musical Jack-of-all-trades who became a top hand, one of the first composers to marry modern jazz rhythms with traditional symphonic forms.

But he has done about as well with other people's work as with his own. His arrangements of "Whispering," when he was beating the piano for Paul Whiteman, helped sell 1,500,000 records. His arrangement of "Rhapsody in Blue" brought fame to himself as well as the late George Gershwin.

Grofe is about the least genius-looking genius in the genius market.

"I work best when I am under pressure and when I am inspired," he laughed. "But I inspire easily."

He is still full of gusto and tunes. One class of listeners likes him for his popular songs, such as "Wonderful One." To others he is best known for his semi-long-hair creations like "The Grand Canyon Suite," "Mississippi Suite" and "Symphony in Steel."

It took him three years to compose the "Grand Canyon Suite," one movement of which came to him as he sat under a tree on the Hackensack, N. J., golf course. It takes a symphony orchestra 34 minutes to play it.

Prolific Music Writer

On the other hand he turned out "Serenade To Ruth," a six-minute piece, in 23 hours flat. He stood on his feet all night jotting down notes on a piano top, to finish it.

He is prolific to an extent he doesn't seem quite to realize himself. He has written so many tunes he has forgotten how some of them go, and has to be reminded of their names.

Before he began composing what his cello-playing grandfather disdainedly dismissed as "Shoo-Ev Music," Grofe ran away from home at the age of 14. He ushered in a theater, drove a truck and worked in a book bindery and an iron foundry until he returned to the family profession in 1909 as a violinist with the Los Angeles Symphony orchestra.

These experiences Grofe remembered later when he began the task of "describing America in music."

Today his chief interest is composing band music, a field he feels has been neglected. "There are more than 125,000 school bands in America. They want new music."

And Grofe can compose it. Like William Shakespeare or Dr. Samuel Johnson he is a business man as well as an artist.

In composing his well known "March for Americans," Grofe said he put down a hundred fragmentary tunes before he felt he had what he wanted.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—A great many people have wondered whatever became of the Senate probe of Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, which Senator Ferguson, Republican of Michigan, began with considerable fanfare last winter.

The start of the probe made newspaper headlines, then suddenly and mysteriously Senator Ferguson quit. He said absolutely nothing more about his Democratic colleague from Oklahoma—even looked embarrassed and changed the subject when the matter was mentioned.

The reason for Ferguson's sudden change of heart has now come to light. Senator Thomas did some investigating of his own regarding Senator Ferguson, then wrote him a personal letter threatening to make these facts public.

In particular, he dug into the connections of Senator Ferguson's son-in-law, Charles R. Beltz, with the Chrysler Automobile company and its subsidiary, Chrysler Airtemp.

To get the full picture, it is necessary to recall that on May 6, 1946 this column first disclosed the fact that Senator Thomas had been making speeches on the Senate floor aimed to influence the cotton market while he, his wife and friends bet their money in advance on cotton.

CRONIES ARE INDICTED

Senator Thomas promptly denied this. But two years later, when the official records were published, his speculation deals were fully confirmed. Furthermore, four of his cronies—Ralph Moore, Robert Harris, Tom Linder of Georgia and J. E. McDonald of Texas—were indicted for illegally influencing the commodity market.

Meanwhile, Republican leaders, who had promised the public they would "investigate, investigate, investigate," and who had thoroughly probed the commodity speculations of two Democrats—Ed Pauley and the president's personal physician—decided also to turn the heat on Democratic Senator Thomas of Oklahoma.

Senator Ferguson of Michigan, widely acclaimed as the Senate's foremost investigator and who aspires to be Dewey's attorney general, was given the job of investigating Thomas.

Then, suddenly, on Feb. 14, Thomas wrote Ferguson one of the most extraordinary letters ever written by one senator to another, and nothing has been heard of the Thomas probe since. Ferguson dropped it like a hot potato.

This column has now obtained a photostatic copy of the Thomas letter. It is written in longhand and after referring to the fact that Senator Ferguson has spent a great deal of public money investigating him, Senator Thomas continues:

SENATOR THOMAS'S LETTER

"I assume that you will not object to me using my private funds to do some investigating of facts, or incidents that are coming to me from all part of the country."

"I have been in the Congress for over 25 years; I have been in every state in the Union; I have friends in almost every city of the country, and I have many friends and even relatives in Michigan and especially in the great city of Detroit. In the past it has never even occurred to me to think of repeating the stories and incidents about senators and congressmen—and to mention the name of a lady—well, such is too low for me to attempt to describe."

"In my formal letter to you I refer to the 'Chrysler Airtemp Sales Corporation' and to the 'Charles R. Beltz and company' and this is to advise that I have rather full information and data respecting your connection with such organization. While you have deemed it in the public interest to investigate my wife—Edith Thomas—and to leave the impression that I have used and am still using her as a 'front' for my private business transactions, I wonder what your friends and constituents in Michigan will say when they learn that the same scheme can be made against you."

"I have all the pertinent facts with respect to the said company; the names of the stockholders, the number of shares and the official positions held by each such stockholder."

"You must know that the making of such information public at this time could not possibly do any person any good—but instead, because of your unwarranted attacks upon me and my family such publicity would unleash a horde of reporters who will go to any limit to get news stories."

"You, your fine wife, your likewise fine daughter and her equally fine husband, should not be subjected to constant telephone calls and requests for interviews as certainly will happen if the charges against you and your family are made public. This is my forecast as I know full well what you have already done to me and my family."

WHO PAID THE BILLS?

"Again I must remind you that you and your committee went on a 'fishing expedition' in an effort to develop evidence to destroy me. . . . As stated—inasmuch as I do not have access to the United States treasury and to investigators and detectives, I will be compelled to defend myself against further alleged charges on the Senate floor. I assure you that I do not want to be driven to making public, data, in the form of charges against you and your committee."

"Personally it should be of no concern. . . . where you have spent your summer vacations, whom with, who paid the bills, or when and how you have entertained your friends here in Washington. That is your private business—but you must remember that I have private business myself. Swanky parties with all that goes along—including the best of drinks including good champagne—all paid for by another—is not good publicity at any time—and is especially bad in a personal campaign year. Luckily, I am not a candidate this year."

"You will no doubt be surprised to know that among my letters and reports, some not signed—that charges have been made that certain wealthy automobile interests,

WALL STREET IS EXPLORED

Not As Wicked As It's Painted, Says Ruark

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—It could be of some comfort to the country to hear that I have just braved the teeming jungles of Wall St., and have emerged unscathed, with an unknipped pocket and an unseared mind. The way Harry and Henry have been working over the financial compound lately, I was nigh afeard to go down there without a gun.

From what I have been able to gather, from the speeches of two presidential candidates, Wall St. is a real wicked place. It was allegedly responsible for the record snowfall of the last Yule season. It taught Robert Mitchum how to smoke marijuana. It has sponsored the Dixiecrats and the Communist party, reduced wages, over-bred prices, bribed the farmer, and once was observed in the act of kicking a stray mongrel.

Shine On Their Seats
To me, it looked normal. The clerks still have a high shine on the seats of their serge. The junior executives still nourish ulcers, mortgages, and decry the stinkin' bosses. The bosses still scream about wages, hours, and the fallibility of hired help, and that man. Even now they don't mean Harry T.

The little female secretaries are just as plump and pretty, and they still chomp chewing gum. The streets are just as tortured, and the tall, gritty buildings are just as somber. Wall St. is a city of brooding shadow. When its weekday bustle is amputated, and the insect life which clogs its streets goes home to Westchester and Jackson Heights, to Brooklyn and Queens, it is a ghost-city, like the old Florida boom-towns which failed to survive the strictured 20's.

If I were a poet who had to be sad to compose, I would spend all my gloomy Sundays in the downtown financial district. Wall St. of a sabbath is a deserted cemetery, a monument to the greed of the old fat cats who lie a-mouldering. The buildings seem to lean slantwise, like sagging marble slabs. The window-eyes are blind. The wind forever blows, on Sunday. It catches up old, discarded sections of the Wall St. Journal and other newspapers, and whisks them along like live creatures, endowing them with the eerie life of a city-spawned tumbleweed.

Gay On Week-days
In week-days, the street has its gay side. There are numerous small restaurants, little holes-in-walls, like the sheep-head stalls in a Moroccan casbah. There the waiters doddle over sawdusted floors, and the captains of industry grow ribald over the third Martini, very dry. The ghosts of the Goulds and Morgans haunt those places, too, but they are benevolent shades, stuffed to the gold collar-button with oysters and grouse.

There is sentiment in the settlement, too. The saddest happen—stance since they chucked a bomb into J. P. Morgan's capacious lap occurred the other day, when a mildewed tavern named Emile's was condemned, to make way for modern city development. Emile's was an old French place, a second-story walkup and a favorite with the shipping barons. They stuck many a deal together in Emile's—deals which meant millions spent, guns delivered, troops transported, ships built, ships abandoned. Even during the war, Emile's cellar was vast and the steaks blue-moulded before they were deemed fit for table. But Emile's has passed from Church St.—gone to make way for something like a chrome-edged filling station.

Smart Trim

The touch of fur or the glint of gold metal is smart on the costume suit, many of which are shown with small fur barrel muff bags. One in leopard, for instance, matches the big square leopard patches on a black wool suit. A tanager red day into evening ensemble has a jacket peplum of black seal. Another black suit has the shawl collar banded in mink.

The jeweler's touches sometimes take an amusing turn, as in a hemlock green suit where the corset middle is further dramatized by gold metal garter clasps on the pockets. Other times the golden gleam takes the form of spiral spring coils or gigantic hooks and eyes fastening the bodice of a wool dress.

Ensign

Home Economics Meeting
Ensign, Mich. — The Ensign Home Economics extension group will hold its first seasonal meeting Wednesday evening, September 29 at 8 o'clock at the schoolhouse. Officers for the coming season will be elected, as well as leaders for the first lesson to be given in November. All present as well as new members are urged to attend.

Personals
Mrs. Fred Holm was recently notified of the death of her sister, Mrs. Marie Ahlbeck of Bronx, New York, whom she had not seen for 29 years when Mrs. Ahlbeck visited here. Besides Mrs. Holm and her father who reside in Delta county, she is survived by her husband, Sander, and a daughter and two sons.

"Senator, your activities against me and the personal charges against you have no proper place in the Senate of the United States. I have done nothing that I am ashamed of and I certainly know of nothing that you should be ashamed of—save perhaps your attacks upon Mrs. Thomas and me.

"I have personally written this lengthy note in order to keep it strictly private. However for fear that I may hereafter need a copy I have had the sheets photostated but I do not plan to make the contents public unless I deem public interest will be served thereby.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Verbeten, Kimberly, Wis., are the parents of a daughter, Diane Marie, born Wednesday, September 22. The baby is the second child in the family, the first a son. Mrs. Verbeten is the former Lillian Marie Greis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Greis, 1300 North 16th street.

Girl Scouts To Hold Songfest Wednesday Night

A Girl Scout songfest will be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 29 from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock at the north end of Ludington Park.

The songs will be led by Mrs. M. H. Garrard, Jr., who is music consultant for all Girl Scout troops in Escanaba. A marshmallow roast will follow the song program.

In case of rain the songfest will be postponed.

Parents and other interested adults are cordially invited to the program.

Proportioned Slip

Women are learning that slips should and can fit perfectly! After years of purchasing gloves, shoes and hose by size and measurement, they are now insisting that their slips fit just as well. They are insisting the slip fit all over, not just in one place. One slip manufacturer realized that a smooth fitting slip is a "must"—a "must" for a woman's comfort and for her smart appearance, as no dress looks well over an ill fitting slip.

This maker realized that in fitting a slip, measurement by bust alone is not enough—a woman's height, her waist and hip measurements, must also be considered. An extensive survey was made which proved that although there are many different types of figures, most American figures fall into one of four basic figure types. With this knowledge the manufacturer of woven lingerie began making specially cut slips. These slips are proportioned—not just in short and long lengths, but correctly proportioned from shoulder to bust, from bust to waist, from waist to hips and from hips to knee.

Buckles Have An Air of Elegance

Buckles are having an inning this fall. They are making Puritan of sleek, slim opera pumps, and adding dash to wide-belted waists. The glove-makers are picking them up for wristline accent, and they are a new entrant on high-riding shoes.

The buckles, smartest of them steel-cut and large, were a feature of a recent shoe show where footwear for today's fashion included such old-timers as the curvaceous Louis heel, slim toes, and satin and combination fabrics.

As a whole, the revival shoes are simple in design and dressy, expressing an elegant spirit enriched by fine craftsmanship.

The high-button shoe—and it does take a button-look—and the spat shoe are among the newest. Ribbon ties long out of the shoe picture, are back, too, on various height two eyelet straps.

Copper Country Giant Was Tallest In 90's

(By Raymond C. Peterson)
Houghton, Mich.—"Wow! Look at those shoes, those pants, that hat, that coat, and that shirt! Do you mean to tell me there was a man alive that wore that stuff? Why that shirt looks like a nightgown, those shoes like snow shoes and the hat like an umbrella. If there was such a man, who was he, where did he live and when did he die?"

It was with this in his mind that we left the A. L. Paulson museum recently, where these articles of apparel are on display, hoping that we could get the information to clear up a mystery for many concerning the Finnish giant, Louis "Big Louie" Moilanen.

We were told that Louie was a Copper Country man and that he had lived near the Boston location, so when we decided an article in the Gazette would do a lot to get the present generation acquainted with Louie, we had two fellows in mind whom we knew could give the information. They are John F. and Jacob Hiltunen, brothers, of Route 2, Calumet, and we learned just what we wanted by making a special visit to their home near the Boston location.

Imagine our surprise when, asking the brothers about Louie, they told us they not only knew him but were pallbearers at his funeral. And after giving us a few details of his life we checked the exact day of death through the Gazette files, which gave us the complete information on his life.

Louis Moilanen was born in Finland in 1885 and at the age of four came to America with his parents, who settled on a farm in the Salo district. It wasn't long after this that he started to stretch in stature and at the age of nine he was as tall as the average man. When he was 16 he had reached nearly the limit of his growth, becoming world famous at the age of 18, when he gained recognition as the world's tallest man, being eight feet one inch in height.

During his boyhood he toiled underground for several years in the Boston mine in a group of men known as the timber gang. He was just the man needed for wedging timbers, but found it too awkward in the stipes or drifts, and eventually retired.

It was in 1903 that he first drew attention as a public attraction, when F. M. Sackrider of Hancock engaged his services for two years, after which he spent two seasons with Ringling Brothers Circus as a side show attraction, travelling as the "Sackrider." He was naturally shy and did not enjoy the life, so he returned to the farm. His father died while he was with Ringling Brothers, but he remained on the farm with his mother.

Moilanen was in the saloon business in Hancock for a few years, locating on the corner of Franklin and Tezucuo streets. Hiltunen, who visited his place of business, said he served his customers from one position near the center of the bar by leaning to the right and left. Eventually, however he gave up this business and again returned to full time on the farm, until 1911, when he was elected Justice of the Peace in Hancock.

Louie never liked large gatherings and never sought leadership of men due to his immense stature and strength. His home was always the farm and he spent all his spare time whenever he could visiting at the homes of neighboring farmers. He always walked the straightest route through the fields and never crawled through wiring, but stepped over the top wire with ease.

Despite the fact that Big Louie had the strength of two men, he did have his handicaps. Due to his large body he had weak nerves and was apt to fall at the slightest push or when off balance. Doctors said he had a too small heart for the 97 inches and 400 pounds he carried, so he had his difficulties during his brief life.

His strength could be estimated by his stay in the mine. Supplies of the timber gang which included blocks and roping were nothing for Louie to carry. He not only took his share down but another man's also, so he was an excellent man to have around.

Not the largest man in the world at that time, but the tallest, Louie's remarkable feature was his comparatively short legs. They measured three feet three inches in length. In order to estimate Louie's size, as compared with the average man, Undertaker Crawford at the time of Louie's death took the following measurements:

Height—eight feet, one inch.
Weight—400 pounds.
Shoulder width—two feet.
Chest—59 inches.
Waist—48 inches.
Length of foot—13 inches.
Length inside leg—three feet, three inches.

Arm length from shoulder to elbow—one foot, six inches.
Elbow to wrist—one foot, two inches.

Wrist to end of index finger—11 inches.

Glove measurement—12 inches.

Thigh measurement—24 inches.

Calf of leg—17 inches.

Arm at muscle—14½ inches.

Length of face from chin to forehead—13½ inches.

Neck measurement—18 inches.

No single article of attire was large enough for Louie. His hat size was 9½ and his shoes were size 19. All of his clothes were special orders, secured through Ed Haas & Co., Houghton.

Louie was the only abnormal child in the Moilanen family. He had one brother and two sisters. His mother was only slightly over four feet in height and his father about five feet nine. The latter had a heavy set physique.

One of Louie's favorite tricks when in company of those amazed over his stature was to slip off his ring and pass a half dollar through it without touching any edge of the ring. He had an odd low voice which sounded as though it were echoing from a hollow tree.

Although in poor health for about a year, Louie became sick on Sept. 13, 1913, and at first was placed in the county jail as it was feared he was becoming insane. Dr. LaBine, however, diagnosed the case, saying Louie was "a very sick man" and he was placed in St. Joseph's hospital. On the morning of Sept. 16, Louie's end came. He had been reading the Bible and a short while after slumped off the bed to the floor. He was dead a half-hour later, the cause being tubercular meningitis of the brain. He was only 28 years old.

Undertaker Crawford wired to Chicago for a special casket. Feeling that a mistake was made, the firm wired back to Crawford who confirmed the first statement. The casket was the largest ever made at that time, being eight feet 10½ inches in length, three feet two inches wide and 22 inches deep. It weighed 300 pounds, double the weight of the ordinary casket. There was no hearse large enough to accommodate it, so it was placed on a wagon, driven by a team of horses to Lakeside cemetery.

In connection with the funeral parade, John F. Hiltunen stated that the casket had to be strapped to the wagon as there was a steep incline to the cemetery and it was feared the casket would slide off otherwise. About 18 inches extended out of the wagon and it was this portion that particularly was bound to the wagon.

Many townspeople thought Moilanen died a rich man, but he died penniless. His long period of poor health exhausted his funds and even found it necessary to mortgage the farm. A close friend purchased a plot for his burial, but the funeral expenses were paid by the county.

About a year after his death rumors in the Copper Country were numerous that his body had been stolen and Crawford finally exhumed the grave. Upon inspection it was found that Louie was still at rest.

Moilanen's family are all dead and only three pallbearers are still living, Emil Kanninen, and the Hiltunens, John F. Hiltunen is 73 and his brother Jacob 64.

The Rev. Matt Pesonen of the Finnish Lutheran church of Hancock officiated at the funeral.

Boarding Homes Are Being Sought

Munising—An appeal has been made by Probate Judge George S. Baldwin for boarding homes in Alger county, and particularly in Munising, where youngsters may be placed for care.

Judge Baldwin said, "From time to time it becomes necessary for the probate court to place children ranging from a few days old to 17 years of age in suitable boarding homes to be cared for."

Clairmont Buys Portion Of Cochran Lines

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—Purchase of certain operating rights of W. D. Cochran Freight Lines, except between Menominee and Marinette, Mich., by the Clairmont Transfer Company of Escanaba, Mich., and acquisition of control of these rights by Ruth K. Norton of Gladstone, Mich., has been approved by Interstate Commerce Commission.

Clairmont Transfer Company has been authorized to operate interstate or foreign commerce as a motor common carrier of general commodities over regular routes between Chicago, Ill., and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., via Milwaukee, Green Bay, and Marinette, Wis., and Menominee, Escanaba and Grand River, Mich., serving all intermediate points in Michigan. Among the operating rights of Cochran which Clairmont Transfer proposes to purchase were included his route (9) between Menominee and Marinette, serving all intermediate points and that portion of route (12) between Menominee and Marinette, serving no intermediate points.

The United States produced 61 per cent more food in the last two years of World War II than in the last two years of World War I and did it with 1,500,000 fewer farm workers.

The pulpits, domes and dados of the great mosques built in Constantinople during the 16th Century were often decorated with gleaming ceramic tile.

As there is an extreme shortage of available homes and it is difficult at times to place children, the court is asking that those persons in Munising who may be interested in taking babies, children or youths for boarding care please get in touch with the probate court.

Persons taking children for care will be paid.

Do you want to be an OFFICER?

... OPPORTUNITY
for High School Graduates, for Reserve, National Guard and AUS Officers

Because of the large numbers of men now entering the Army, there are increased opportunities for high-caliber young men who would like to become commissioned officers.

Qualified High School Graduates Can Now Enlist for Officer Candidate School

This is important news to ambitious young men between 19 and 28 years old, who have graduated from high school or can pass an equivalent examination. If you are a citizen of the United States and can meet the necessary requirements, you may enlist in the U. S. Army for the specific purpose of attending Officer Candidate School, provided, of course, that quotas are not filled.

When your application is approved, you will be enlisted in the Army in the grade of Sergeant (formerly called Staff Sergeant).

If you have not had basic training you will be given this training before entering Officer Candidate School.

Successful candidates will be commissioned 2nd Lieutenants in the Officers Reserve Corps and placed on active duty for two years. Distinguished graduates of OCS who meet requirements will be given direct commissions in the Regular Army. Other qualified OCS graduates may compete for regular commissions during their active duty tours. Unsuccessful candidates will serve out the term of their enlistments.

You can get full details about applying for a commission at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

Active Duty for Reserve, National Guard or Former AUS Officers

If you are a member of the Officers Reserve Corps, National Guard or a former AUS officer there are excellent opportunities to return to active service. AUS officers will be given reserve commissions upon their request which may be submitted along with the application for active duty.

Officers entering active duty are assured re-employment under the Selective Service Law upon relief from duty. While on duty they accrue retirement equity under the recent reserve retirement law passed by Congress. Get full details from your Reserve Unit Commander, or from the Commanding General of your Army Area.

State Wide Committee

Frank Heinz, timberland owner and operator; and R. G. Hentschell, manager of the Manistique Pulp and Paper company, both of Manistique, are listed as advisory committee members of the Michigan Tree Farm System, a recently launched organization sponsored by the Michigan Department of Conservation. There are fifty members on the committee and Gov. Kim Sigler is honorary chairman.

The objectives of this system call cooperative effort on the part of timber land owners to increase the value of their "tree crops" and to protect the forests so that they may continue to be a source of income to the owners.

An active campaign to interest timber land owners of both large and small tracts, is being launched here.

The Conservation Department and the Michigan Forest Industries will present a certificate and a free 18 inch by 26 inch tree farm sign to owners of woodlots or forests of more than six acres which meet the standards set up in the program.

Further information about the program and applications for inspection by a conservation department forester may be obtained from the county agricultural agent or by writing either the State Forester, Department of Conservation, Lansing 13, Michigan or State Extension Forester, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

Michigan becomes the twenty-second state to sponsor the plan, joining Ohio and Wisconsin in the midwest. The idea began in the state of Washington in 1941 and today includes 15,323,673 acres of woodland.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone who assisted us during the funeral of our son and brother, S. L. Clio L. Brown, Jr. We especially wish to thank the pallbearers, Rev. Harold Martinson, those who sent flowers, those who donated the use of their cars, the V.F.W. Post 4420, the American Legion, Post 83, and Auxiliaries, and all others who assisted us in any way.

Helen Schnurer
Married Friday
To V. Anderson

Miss Helen Roxanna Schnurer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Schnurer, became the bride of Verner Anderson, son of Mrs. Oscar Anderson, North Houghton avenue, at a candlelight ceremony performed Friday evening, September 24 at 8:30 in the First Baptist church. The vows were spoken before the Rev. W. H. Schobert.

The altar of the church was decorated with greens, white gladioli and mums. During the ceremony, Virgil Arrowood, soloist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer". He was accompanied by Mrs. Schobert, organist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white satin brocade and a shoulder length veil. She carried a shower bouquet of white mums and red roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Vivian Peterson, wore a powder blue crepe street length dress and a blue shoulder length veil. She carried flowers similar to the bride's. Lloyd Sigl, close friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. The bridegroom's brothers, Mauritz and Roy were ushers.

Mrs. Schnurer attended her daughter's wedding wearing a black dress and Mrs. Anderson chose a navy blue dress. Their corsages were of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for a large gathering of friends and relatives. Lunch was served by the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

Later in the evening the couple left for a week's honeymoon to the East. Upon their return they will make their home in West Bend, Wis., where the bridegroom is employed. He is a graduate of the local high school. The bride, also a graduate of Manistique High school, has been employed at the First National Bank.

UNITED NATIONS
DEBATE TOPICHigh School Teams To Discuss Subject

Manistique high school students will debate the issues of a federal world government this year under the direction of the Michigan School Forensic association.

The association, which is a division of the University of Michigan will also sponsor high school competition in declamation, oratory and extemporaneous speaking. Debate contests will be held this fall, while those in other types of forensics will be held in the spring.

The topic for the high school debaters is: "Resolved that the United Nations now be revised into a Federal World Government."

In addition to awards presented by the University of Michigan, debaters will be competing for the $2,500 college scholarship offered by the Detroit Free Press.

Marvin Frederickson is the local instructor in drama and speech which includes debate activity.

Former Manistique
Resident Candidate

Charles Madison, a former resident of Manistique, but now of Roscommon, was nominated for the office of judge of probate in Roscommon county in the recent primary in a three-way contest, receiving the largest vote of any of the contestants.

Madison is in the undertaking business in that village. His wife is the former Katherine Rubick of this city.

Escanaba Rightfully Described As 'Sportsmen's Paradise'

Wide Variety Of Recreation Facilities Is Offered Here

Truly can it be said that the Escanaba area is a sportsman's paradise!

For the Escanaba area, perhaps more than any other area in the Upper Peninsula, offers a wide variety of natural and man-made recreation facilities that provide year-round enjoyment to residents and visitors.

Escanaba has an enviable reputation for the success of its sons and daughters in certain sports, such as speed skating, figure skating, golf and sailing, and for the prowess of its teams in sectional competition—in baseball, softball, football, basketball and track.

A well-rounded recreation program for all age groups is the goal of a fulltime recreation department, wisely provided for many years ago by city fathers. And this program is expanding gradually as new needs are seen and new facilities developed to answer those needs.

Proud of Facilities

Escanaba is rightfully proud of its fine high school athletic field with a stadium seating nearly 5,000 and incorporating a football field, quarter-mile track, practice field, baseball diamond and field house equipped with locker and shower facilities.

It is proud also of its excellent yacht harbor, indoor skating rink, U. P. state fairground facilities, airport, picnic and playground areas.

It is proud of its nearby bird and game hunting areas, trout streams, attractive bay fishing where walleyed pike, Northern pike and smaller game fish abound.

The great number of facilities provided in picturesque Ludington park, on Sand point and along the South bay shore give residents an immense playground right in their "backyard" that is the envy of all tourists and visitors.

New Play Areas

New special areas are being developed by the city recreation department, such as the playground, neighborhood park, softball and baseball diamond near the Federal Housing Project for Veterans—for their express benefit—and Royce park, to be renamed "Kiwanis playground" because of that organization's work in constructing and providing more facilities for the benefit of residents in that part of the community. Kiwanis playground will have a wading pool, attractive park and playground facilities, softball diamond and a junior baseball field. Playground equipment will be installed in the West Side Athletic Field, and special areas are being developed in Ludington park.

Escanaba, too, is proud of its long-term development program along the waterfront south of Sand point which promises to give Escanaba one of the finest waterfronts of any city of similar size in the nation.

Residents are well acquainted with the long-term program which already has given Escanaba a beautiful yacht harbor and which in the near future will give it a novel swimming beach extended beyond the yacht harbor and connected with an "outer drive" that will replace the municipal beach on the north shore of Sand point.

Variety—Plus!

Fishing, boating, badminton, sailing, cycling, hiking, archery, swimming, shuffleboard, golf, tennis are popular summer sports that all Escanabans participate in. Escanaba next summer will have four baseball diamonds, seven softball fields including lighted Memorial Field commemorating

World War II veterans, two golf courses among the finest in the Midwest, 10 hard-surfaced tennis courts, 11 shuffleboard courts, 13 horseshoe areas, four municipal playgrounds and five school playgrounds being completely black-topped and reconditioned.

Such sports as archery, badminton, volleyball, dartball, billiards, ping pong and fishing are enjoyed the year-round by the people of Escanaba.

Its high school athletic teams have always been among the leaders in football, basketball, track, tennis and golf. Upper Peninsula interscholastic sports. Escanaba now is the site of the annual U. P. track and field meet. It has held two successive Upper Peninsula open tennis tournaments, a leader in the postwar revival of that sport in Northern Michigan.

Host To U. P. Meets

This past summer, Escanaba was host to the annual Upper Peninsula softball tournament, in which two of its teams captured top class honors, and to the Upper Peninsula women's golf tournament. In cooperation with the Green Bay Yacht Racing association, the Escanaba Yacht club also sponsored its annual competition for Lake Michigan yachtsmen, with craft coming here for racing or for strictly pleasure yachting from such points as Detroit, Milwaukee and Chicago.

Escanaba regularly fares well in all competitive sports. It has had more Upper Peninsula golf champions than any other city in the U. P. This summer, its champion for two successive years (1946 and 1947) turned professional and was succeeded as U. P. champion by an 18-year-old youth—also an Escanaban who previously had been U. P. high school golf titlist for two years. It captured individual and team honors in the recent U. P. Open Golf tourney held in Iron Mountain.

Winter recreation is equally varied—indoor and outdoor skating, speed skating, figure skating, ice fishing, boxing climaxed by official Golden Gloves tournaments, ice hockey, skiing, tobogganing, ice boating on Little Bay de Noc, basketball, badminton, volleyball, archery, billiards, dartball, bowling and snowshoeing.

Something For Everyone

Fishing through the ice is a novel sport becoming increasingly popular.

This coming winter Escanaba will have one indoor ice rink at the state fairgrounds exhibition building, the home of the adept skaters of the Escanaba Figure Skating club and the rugged group of Escanaba Hawks hockey players.

It will have, in addition, an outdoor hockey rink of regulation size, six community skating rinks and any number of neighborhood rinks, nearly all of them with shacks and fulltime caretakers to assure orderly use at all times.

A highlight of the winter recreation program is the work of the extremely competent Escanaba Figure Skating club which has staged for eight consecutive seasons an elaborate figure skating show, brilliantly costumed and produced with a professional flair, that is without a doubt one of the finest small-town ice revues ever presented. Many of its "graduates" have gone on to professional fame with "name" ice show companies.

So it is that Escanaba can truly be termed a sportsmen's paradise.

There is something in the way of sports at any season of the year to satisfy every desire.

LIST OUTDOORS AMONG ASSETS

Escanaba Area Has Vast Natural Playground

Fishing and hunting and other outdoor recreational activities usually are not listed among the assets of the Escanaba community, yet it is conceded that without them much of its attractiveness would be lost.

"We are going to miss our week end trips to the woods," say those people who must leave Escanaba to make their homes in larger cities. Regrettably they mention the boating, the swimming, fishing, hunting, skiing and skating they have enjoyed here and will not find in the community to which they are moving.

The conservation of wildlife, the preservation of forest areas and other natural resources, and the enforcement of laws to that end is the responsibility of the Michigan conservation department. In Escanaba is located the department's district headquarters for the Delta-Marquette-Alger county area, and John Chriske of Escanaba is district conservation supervisor.

For Public Use

There is no lack of space for the outdoorsman and his family in Delta county, for 250,583 acres are in public ownership. This total is largely in federal and state forest areas, in state game tracts, and in lands that provide access to public waters.

The conservation department has improved and maintains public fishing sites on the Ford and Escanaba rivers and is considering the purchase of additional sites on Big Bay de Noc. The state and county highway departments have wide rights of way that extend to the shores of lakes and streams, and the U. S. Forest Service in the Hiawatha National Forest maintains for the public vast areas open to outdoor recreation.

In addition there are a number of county parks located on the shores of lakes and rivers. Facilities are provided for picnics and outings. In both Gladstone and Escanaba public parks are larger and better than those to be found in many communities.

For the hunter there is mile after mile of forest and field uncluttered by fences, open in season to a variety hunting that includes deer, bear, rabbit, grouse, prairie chicken and other game. Duck hunting in the Escanaba area is another popular sport.

Land Of The Red Buck

Thousands of hunters annually come to Delta county for the deer season and their percentage of success is high.

Last year a total of 6,336 deer hunters were in the woods in the Delta area, and over 38 per cent of them were successful in bagging a buck. This percentage of success ranks among the highest for any county in the state.

To maintain good hunting the conservation department through its district headquarters office in Escanaba, and the regional office in Marquette operates forest fire control and law enforcement programs. Year around studies and observations to preserve wildlife are made through the department's game division, represented in Escanaba by Howard Eldred, state game area manager.

Good forestry practices are encouraged by the forestry division of the conservation department, and tree planting programs are carried out annually by the state and federal forest services.

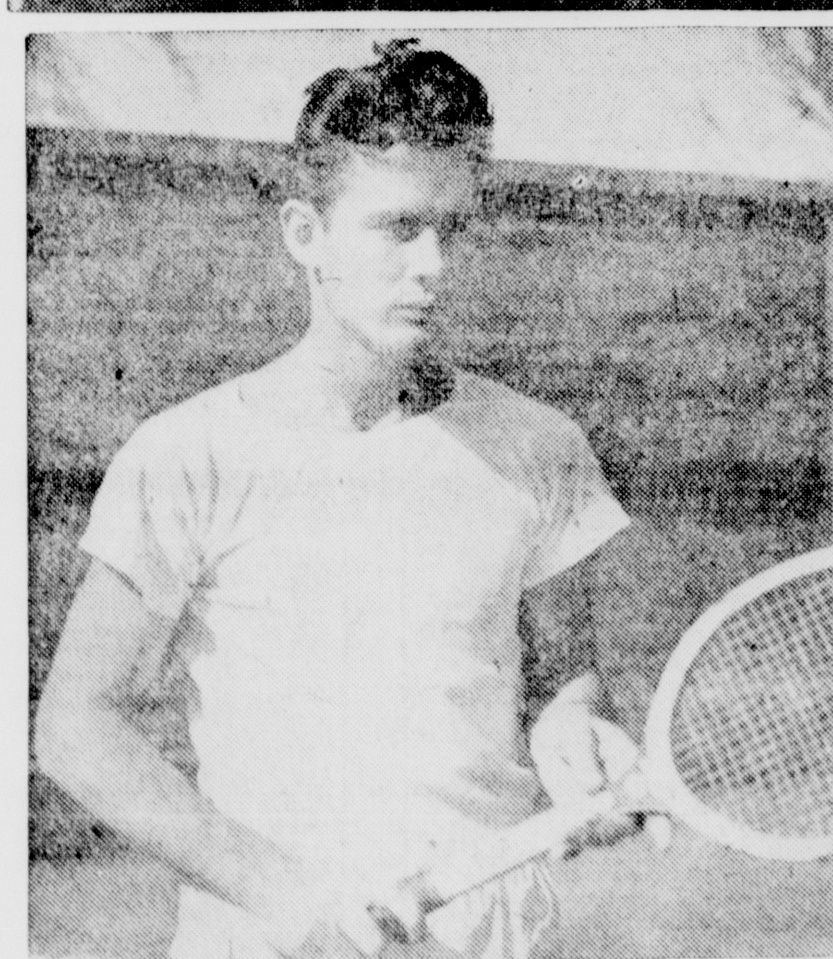

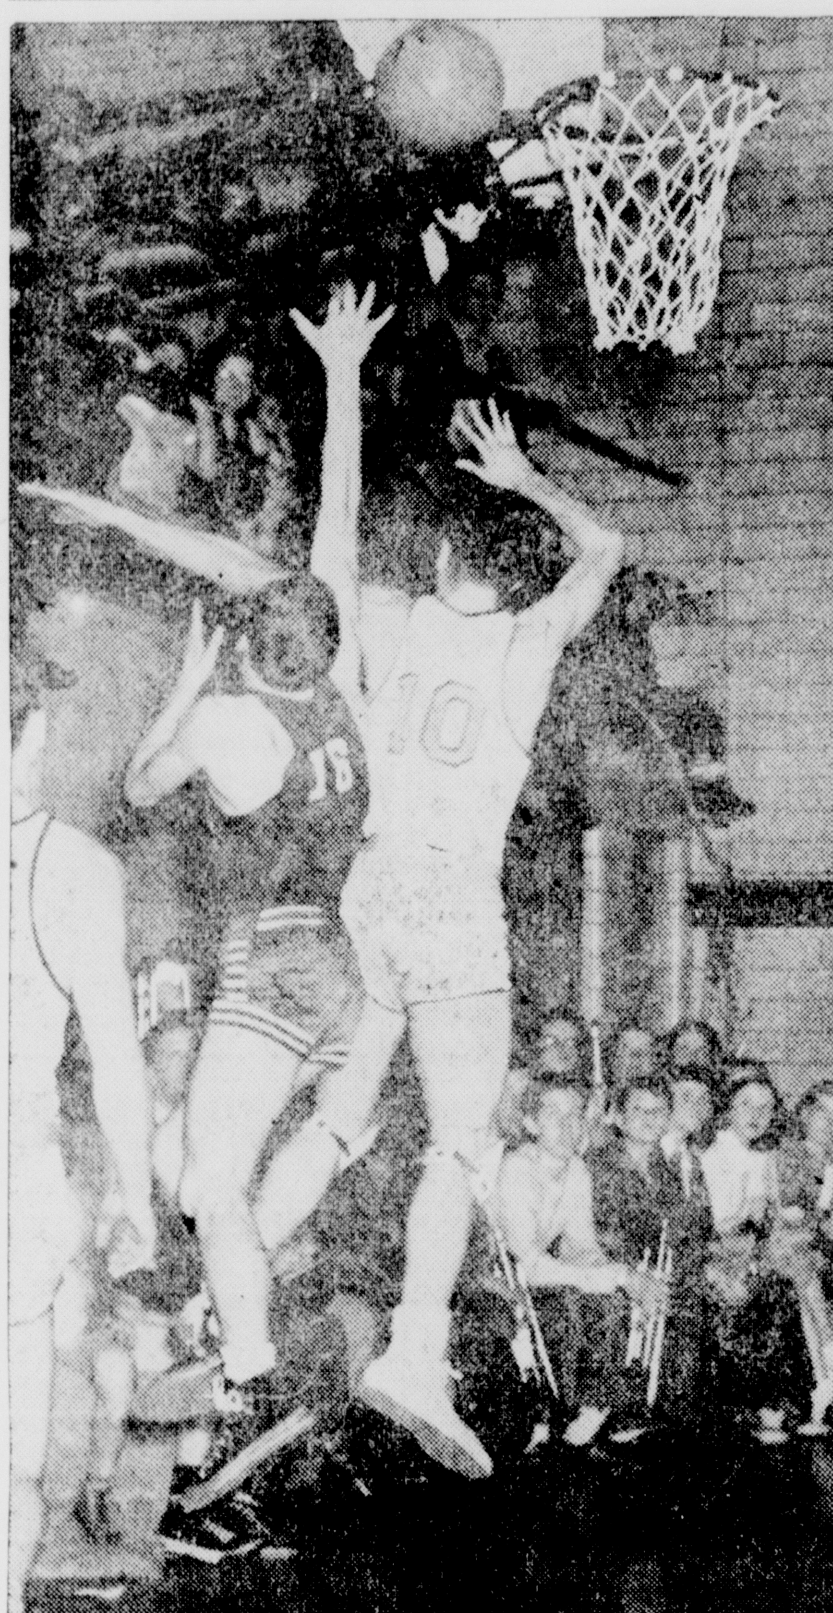

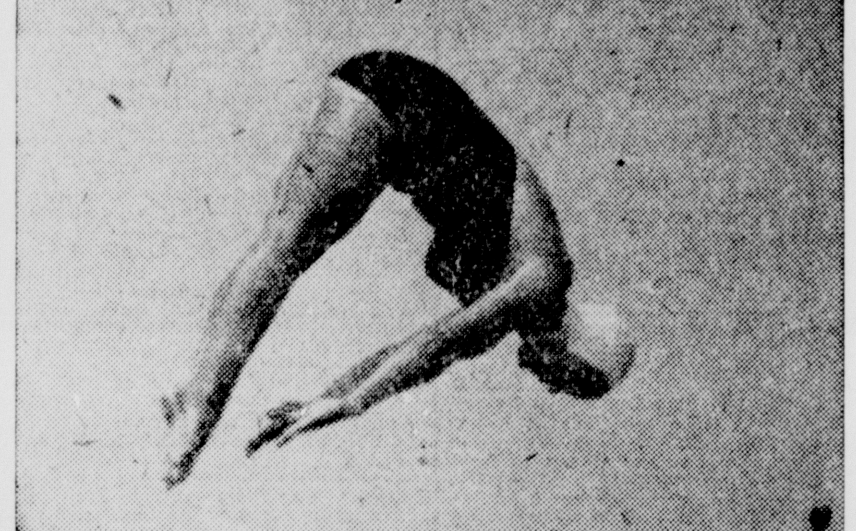

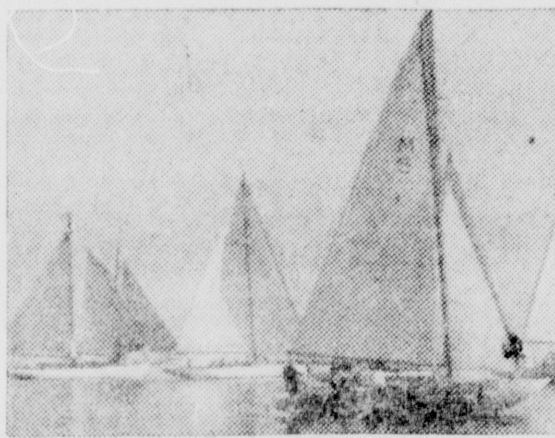

Protect And Preserve

There are more than 30 persons employed by the conservation department in the Delta-Marquette-Alger county district. In Delta county conservation officers are stationed at Escanaba, Garden, Orontz, Rapid River and Rock.

The protection of wildlife and forest resources through enforcement of conservation laws is carried out in conjunction with a program of conservation education. Protection of the deer herds from poachers is one of the more dramatic activities of conservation officers, who now patrol in radio equipped automobiles to overtake the fast-driving game law violator.

Forest fire prevention and control requires public cooperation combined with early detection of fires by towermen and quick action by the fire fighters. So far this year there have been 32 forest fires in Delta county, 52 in Marquette county, and only three in the western half of Alger county included in this conservation district. Two of the fires were the largest in acreage to occur in the past several years, however, and caused considerable damage.

Thousands of Escanaba residents and visitors to Delta county find healthful recreation in the nearby unspoiled out-of-doors, an asset to any community.

PARADISE FOR SPORTSMEN—The out-of-doors in the Escanaba area offers recreation in general to everyone, and in particular it is a paradise for hunters in the approaching open season on game and wildlife. There is grouse and rabbit shooting starting Oct. 1, with duck season to follow, while the climax comes with the opening of the season on deer and bear Nov. 15. Thousands of hunters come to Delta county only once a year, while local sportsmen enjoy its recreation facilities the year around.

Sports Facilities Used By 10,000 In Escanaba

Figures supplied by George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation leader, disclose nearly 10,000 residents of Escanaba are active participants in one or more forms of sport in the community's year-round recreation program.

Actual count of those participating shows that 8,927 persons enjoyed 24 different sports in the 1947-48 season, Grenholm said. This does not include swimming at the municipal beach, where the total reached 33,306 for the summer, many of whom, of course, were repeaters.

"In all other sports we were able to get an accurate check of the number of different persons who participated in each respective sport, so the figure of 8,927 for all other sports can be considered accurate," the recreation leader said.

A total of 1,616 enjoyed general skating at community outdoor rinks, and 1,100 were active bowling participants. Two hundred and 13 used the indoor rink at the fairgrounds regularly, and 215 played hockey.

Dartball enthusiasts numbered 216. Approximately 500 played golf during the summer, and 418 played volleyball.

Senior softball promotion was a major function of the city recreation department. A total of 360 participated in senior softball. This is only slightly more than the 345 who participated in the expanding junior baseball program.

Numbers of participants in other sports in Escanaba follow: 268, junior softball; 120, girls softball; 65, senior baseball; 128, horseshoe; 189, archery; 381, tennis; 297, shuffleboard; 114, boating; 76, speed skating; 384, basketball; 69, badminton; 184, boxing; 289, table tennis; 970, skiing; 310, tobogganing.

OPERATED TWO MILLS

The I. Stephenson company operated two mills and a maple flooring plant in 1909. In the soft mill plant, the equipment consisted of a twin band, a 12-inch band, 42-inch wicker gang, Prescott round gang, two double Challaner shingle machines, two lath mills, a resaw trimmer and an edger for making box boards.

ONLY ONE SIDEWALK

Escanaba had only one sidewalk 77 years ago. It was only a few feet long and was situated on the present Tenth street.

Braves Clinch Pennant; Indians Move To Front In Hot American Chase

Boston Wins 1st NL Flag Since 1914

By Ralph Roden
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Braves are "in" today and the Cleveland Indians are brushing their feet on the welcome mat spread for the American league's entry in the 1948 world series.

Billy Southworth's Braves gained admittance to the world series yesterday when they clinched their first National league pennant since 1914.

The Indians moved a game in front of the runnerup Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees in the tension taut American league race and are on the threshold of joining the Braves in the series.

Cleveland, behind the brilliant five-hit pitching of Bobby Feller, downed the Detroit Tigers, 4-1, while the Yanks dumped the Red Sox, 6-2, in the third game of their cut-throat series.

The Indians, like their pursuers, have only five games to play but, unless they suffer a sudden collapse, Manager Lou Boudreau's boys can't miss.

If the Indians win three of their remaining five games, the Red Sox or the Yanks must take all five to beat out the Indians.

At the rate the Indians are moving winning three out of five is a cinch as the Tribe has won nine out of its last ten starts. Another feather in the Indians' bonnet is the fact they play out their schedule at home starting tomorrow night. They take on the last place Chicago White Sox in the opener of a two-game series and then close out with a three-game series against the Tigers.

The Red Sox, although they have lost three out of their last four games, are in a better position to overhaul the Indians than the defending world champion Yankees who finish out on the road.

Boston is at home for the rest of the season and the best tonic for the slumping Sox is Fenway Park's chummy left field wall. The Sox resume the chase against the weak Washington Senators tomorrow in the opener of a three-game series and close out the season with the Yanks.

The Yanks invade Philadelphia for the first of three games tomorrow and Connie Mack's A's are ready. The A's have been idle for the past four days and that means Dick Fowler, Lou Brissie, Joe Coleman and Carl Scheib will be on the firing line.

A capacity crowd of 69,755 fans watched the Yanks make it two out of three over the floundering Sox at the Yankee stadium. Tommy Henrich got the Yanks off to a good start when he socked his 25th homer with Phil Rizzuto on base in the first inning off Lefty Mel Parnell. The Yanks sewed it up in the third with two more runs.

Meanwhile, Boston is toasting the Braves—particularly Bob Elliott, Vern Bickford and Nels Potter—and, of course, Southworth. The Braves assured themselves of the bunting by nosing out the New York Giants, 3-2, on Elliott's three-run first inning homer off Larry Jansen. Bickford blanked the Giants until the eighth when he faltered and gave up two runs. Potter stepped in the breach, snuffed out the rally and safeguarded the slender margin the remaining distance.

Boston is six games ahead of the runnerup Brooklyn Dodgers. The Braves have six games to play and the Dodgers five.

The Dodgers turned back the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-1, to protect their half game lead over the third place St. Louis Cardinals.

St. Louis, behind the four-hit pitching of Lefty Al Brazie, stopped the Chicago Cubs, 5-2. The Cards clipped Bob Bush for three hits and three runs in the first inning. Two walks, followed by two errors let the Red Birds tally twice in the seventh.

In the remaining American league game, Randy Gumpert pitched the last place Chicago White Sox to a six hit 3-0 win over the St. Louis Browns. Washington and Philadelphia were idle.

Old Manistique Ball Team Holds Reunion
Manistique, Sept. 27—Members of an indoor baseball team which flourished for several years after the turn of the century were guests at a birthday dinner party at Sunset Beach Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Robert Giffin served dinner in honor of her father, W. S. Crowe, the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

Present at the gathering besides Mr. Crowe were "Scrappy" Williams, Vic Deemer and Ed Jewell, members of the team and Ben Gero, the team's manager.

The indoor team of that period, from 1903 to 1910, was one of the crack teams in Upper Michigan and some of its engagements made metropolitan news. Mr. Crowe was pitcher of the team.

Bark River Captures Tri County Loop Title
Bark River, Sept. 27—Bark River captured the 1948 championship of the Tri County Baseball league by defeating Hermansville, 9-3, in the third and deciding game of the title series here Sunday afternoon. Bark River was Delta county's only representative in the Tri county circuit.

Outstanding for the champions in the playoff finale were E. Mehnke, J. Sundquist and A. Johnson. B. Kleiman went the limit on the mound for the victors and limited Hermansville to five hits.

Bark River took a 6-0 lead with a five-run blast in the third inning.

Feller Too Potent For Prince Hal

By Ralph Roden
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit Tigers took a well-earned rest from the American league baseball wars today and started to build up steam for another crack at the league-leading Cleveland Indians next weekend.

Hal Newhouse, trying for his 20th victory, couldn't make the grade Sunday as Bob Feller hurled a masterful five-hitter to beat the Tigers 4 to 1 and hurl the Tribe into undisputed first place.

It was Cleveland's second straight victory over Detroit after losing the series opener and sent the Indians back home a full game in front of Boston and New York, now tied for second.

Detroit planned to call on the "crutch" for a three-game series with St. Louis opening here Tuesday before heading to Cleveland for a final fling at the Tribe.

Manager Steve O'Neill said he would "let the kids play" against the Browns, using Billy Pierce and Lou Kretlow in a pair of starting mound assignments and putting young Johnny Groth in center field and John Bero on second.

But somewhere in between Newhouse will get a shot at the Browns and a second crack at his 20th victory. He also will hurl one of the weekend games in Cleveland, probably Sunday.

Newhouse simply couldn't match Feller's performance Sunday before 57,838 fans, biggest crowd to pack Briggs stadium this season.

Hal yielded nine hits during the eight innings he stayed in there. He lost because the licks on three occasions came in pairs.

Detroit couldn't do anything with Feller except in the fourth, when successive line drive singles by Vic Wertz, Pat Mullin and Dick Wakefield accounted for the only Tiger run.

Feller fanned nine men, facing only 32 batters, five more than the minimum, and allowed only two Detroit runners to get as far as second base.

The big throng gave the Tigers a new record for home attendance in a single season, with three games left with St. Louis. The current mark of 1,735,117 for 74 games is more than 12,000 ahead of the 1946 previous high—1,722,590.

Esky Aerial Attack Snows Viking Eleven

203 Yards Gained Via Air Nets Victory

Norway, Sept. 27—(Special)—The Escanaba Eskymos uncorked an efficient passing attack here Saturday afternoon that spelled the difference between defeat and victory in their clash with the Norway Vikings. Escanaba erased a 7-6 halftime deficit to win, 12-7, and thus chalk up its third consecutive triumph of the season without defeat.

It was appropriate that Escanaba should win via the aerial route. That way, it was sweet revenge for that dismal 34-14 loss to the Vikings in Escanaba last season, which featured the accurate long tossing of one Donald Hill, now departed from high school ranks.

In the starring role Saturday was Don Carlson, able Eskymo back, who tossed them accurately to Gary Abrahamson, end, and to Herb Nicholson, half, whose running game was not up to par because of an injury suffered in the Ironwood game two weeks ago.

11 X 20 For 203 Yards
The Eskymos connected in 11 of 20 passes for a gain of 203 yards. They gained 101 by rushing, compared with 147 for Norway by rushing. The Vikings collected only 43 yards by passing.

After an uneventful first period, the Eskymos opened up in the second quarter. From their own 47, a pass play netted 33 yards to the Norway 20, with Carlson hitting Nicholson. He then nailed one to Abrahamson in the end zone for the opening score of the game. The placekick for extra point was wide.

Midway in the second quarter—the on the first play after the kickoff return following Escanaba's touchdown, Bobby Devine, half-back, went off tackle, slanted toward the sidelines and scampered 67 yards to score. Dick Langert placekicked for the extra point to give Norway a 7-6 edge at halftime.

Perron Goes Over
Thanks to aerials, Escanaba scored again midway in the third quarter and then it staved off two Norway threats in the final period to win by a narrow five-point margin.

From the Escanaba 30, two successive passes to Abrahamson gained 21 yards. Howard Perron, fullback, and Carlson, then hit the line for short gains, and another pass from Carlson to Abrahamson advanced the ball to the Norway 28.

Perron picked up five yards. Gilbert Prevost made five more through the line to make it first down. The Eskymos made 13 first downs, by rushing and seven by passing, and Norway made 10 first downs, three by rushing, three by passing and four by penalties.

Starters: Abrahamson, Dufour, ends; Erickson, Gustafson, tackles; Barron, Chapekis, guards; Johnson, center; Pryal, quarterback; Prevost, Carlson, halfbacks; and Perron, fullback.

Norway starters: Hinds, Moras, ends; T. Devine, Palomita, tackles; Casanova, Salzeider, guards; Fiedling, center; Brackett, quarterback; Marchetti, Pardon, halfbacks, and B. Devine, fullback.

As the game got underway, Trojan quarterback Gerald Harris returned the opening kickoff to the 21 and on the ensuing play a pass from Harris was intercepted by Dale Erickson, Bronchos left halfback. Their initial offensive play met with equal success as fullback Gerry Gleich pounced on a fumble on the St. Joe 49. From this point the locals reeled up two successive first downs sparked by the running of Philip Legault and Gerry Gleich who culminated the drive with a center plunge from the two for the initial marker.

Harris booted the extra point for a 7-0 lead. The remainder of the half found the Bronchos within the St. Joe 30 yard marker on three different occasions only to lose the ball on downs twice and a fumble once.

Trojans Perk Up
Displaying a much better brand of football, the Trojans took command of the game in the second half and quickly reeled off two third quarter touchdowns. Gaining the ball on downs on the Bark River-Harris 34, Paul Legault carried through right tackle to the 15 after taking a handoff from quarterback Harris. Gerry then made three himself on a quarterback sneak and Legault sprinted to the three on a quick opener good for a first down. A dash around left end by Harris accounted for the second touchdown followed by his kick from placement to raise the score to 14-0.

The third Trojan score was set up through a lateral pass from Harris aimed at Roger Williams which fell short of its mark. Sensing an incomplete pass, the

Purdue, Northwestern, Impressive In Openers, To Clash Next Saturday

Chicago, Sept. 27 (AP)—Purdue and Northwestern, each with hope of a Rose Bowl trip, collide at Evanston Saturday in the first major Big Nine football game of the season.

The contest—rates about a toss-up. Both outfits made impressive starts last Saturday. Purdue scared off mighty Notre Dame before losing a thriller 28-27. Northwestern overpowered U.C.L.A. in Los Angeles 19-0.

Two other conference encounters Saturday open the championship drive in earnest. Indiana, which crushed highly-rated Wisconsin 35-7 in the biggest surprise of the weekend, entertains Iowa. Illinois travels to Wisconsin.

Iowa was hard pressed to defeat Marquette 14-12 while Illinois' aerial show buried weak Kansas State 40-0.

The headlining intersectional battle sends Oregon to Michigan. Oregon is considered with California as the best Pacific Coast title threats. Michigan was far below its 1947 championship pace in wringing out a 13-7 win over Michigan State.

Southern California is at Ohio State in another classy contest. The Buckeyes looked good in jolting Missouri 21-7. Minnesota buoyed with a 20-0 licking of Washington, is host to Nebraska in a traditional rivalry.

The chart for major midwest independents sends Marquette to Detroit for a night engagement Friday. On Saturday, Notre Dame is at Pittsburgh and Michigan State is host to Hawaii.

Saturday's review:
Notre Dame 28, Purdue 27 — The Boilermakers outgained the Irish on the ground and through the air, leading 13-12 in the third quarter. Steve Oracko, angled a 23-yard fourth period field goal for the victory.

Indiana 35, Wisconsin 7 — George Taliaferro scooted 68 yards for one, Hoosier touchdown and tallied two more from two and four yards out.

Michigan 13, Michigan State 7 — Tom Peterson passed 41 yards to Dick Rifenburg for the Wolverines' first marker in less than four minutes after the opening kickoff.

Chuck Ortmann, 19-year-old sophomore, banged over from the two yard line for Michigan's second score early in the final period.

Illinois 40, Kansas State 0 — The Illini, led by Tom Stewart's passing, piled up five touchdowns in the final half.

Northwestern 19, U.S.L.A. 0 — Don Burson completed 7 out of 13 tosses for 130 yards, including a 54 yard touchdown toss to Joe Zuravleff. . . . Gasper Perricone romped 50 yards to score in the game's longest run.

Minnesota 20, Washington 0 — The Gophers scored their total in the first quarter. . . . Ev Faunce sprinted 68 yards to start the payoff. . . . The Gophers marched 50 yards for their second touchdown and Dick Lawrence passed 40 yards to Dick Aronsen for the third.

Ohio State 21, Missouri 7 — Pandel Savie's passing helped guide the Buckeyes along three sustained scoring drives, one of which carried 92 yards. . . . Iowa 14, Marquette 12 — In the last four minutes of the game, Al Dimarco completed a 21 yard pass to Jerry Paske to the Marquette 2.

Don Feller Wins Tri-Club Crown
Don Feller, who became professional at the Escanaba Golf club after winning the Upper Peninsula amateur championship two years in a row, annexed the Tri-Club Delta county tournament at Highland yesterday afternoon by defeating Dick Harris, 6 and 4.

Feller fired one-under-par golf at young Harris to win the title. With a 35 going out the Escanaba pro was four up at the turn. He lost the tenth to Harris' par but closed out the match when he won 12, 13 and 14 in a row with narrow-birdie against Harris' bogey-bogey-par.

In continuing the Tri-Club tournament, Feller played the best tournament golf of his career. He was three under par for the tournament, one under in beating Tony Cass, even in disposing of Jim Douglas and one under in each match against Eddy Anderson in the semifinals and Harris in yesterday's finals.

Emerald '11' Rallies Twice To Gain Win

Braves Led 7-0 At Half, 14-9 In 4th Quarter

Gladstone, Sept. 27—It looked for a time as though the Gladstone Braves would upset the Manistique, give Coach Cappy Keil his first victory of the season and spoil the perfect record to date of Coach Hilton Ponto's charges, but Manistique rallied in the second half to nose out the Braves, 16-14, and score their fourth straight victory of the season here Saturday. It was the third defeat for the Braves.

In losing, the Braves served notice that they'll be tough to beat in another week, for with a few breaks they could have had several more touchdowns on Marble Field Saturday.

In the opening period after they had exchanged the ball on a blocked punt and a fumble, the Braves drove to the Manistique 17 only to lose the ball on pass interception. Then in the second quarter the Braves held and Manistique was forced to punt, Gladstone getting the ball on the 40.

McGeary went to midfield and then took a toss from Larry LaPlant to go to the 33. Another aerial to Captain Dick Skoglund carried to the 10. A pitch to towering Phil Creten over the goal was dropped. Another toss to Alworden was good. He was hit at the 5, twisted away from his wouldbe tacklers to cross the goal but the whistle had ended play on the five. Manistique held and took over on the five but was forced to punt, the Braves getting the ball on the Manistique 45.

LaPlant pitched a perfect shot to Jerry Londo on the 30 and he raced down the east sideline for the opening score of the game. The placekick for extra point was good and Gladstone led 7-0 as the half ended.

Come Back Quick
It took Manistique just four plays to score after the opening of the second half. The Green and White was offside on the kickoff and Gladstone kicked over from their 45. It was a long kick taken by Hartman who almost got away for a touchdown. Finally being brought down on the Gladstone 45, Lanco drove for a first down and then broke into the clear on the next play to go 35 yards for a touchdown. Hartman drove over for the extra point and the ball game was tied up, 7 to 7.

Gladstone was unable to gain following the kickoff and Jackson returned the punt to Gladstone's 37. The Green and White put together two first downs to reach the five. Jackson got one, a pass failed, two plays were stopped and the Braves took over on the 3. Attempting to punt out of danger, the kick was blocked and went over the end zone for an automatic safety and Manistique led for the first time in the game 9-7.

The ball was put into play on the 20 with free kick and then began a see-saw battle which finally saw Gladstone get possession on the 23 when they blocked a Manistique punt. Skoglund in two tries made a first down and then McGeary cracked to the 3 for another first down as the fourth quarter started. LaPlant drove over between center and left guard for a touchdown and Alworden ran the ball over for extra point when a poor pass from center made a place kick impossible, and Gladstone led 14-9.

Manistique took the kickoff and drove straight downfield with Hartman and Lanco doing the lugging to the four where Gladstone made a goalline stand and took over. The Braves punted out and Vizona returned to the Gladstone 25. Jandro was hurt and replaced by Stowe. Manistique made it a first down. Hartman drove to the 6 and repeated for five to the one for a first down. Hartman drove over for a touchdown which put the Green and White out in front 15-14, and then bulldozed his way over for an extra point to make it 16-14.

Don Feller Wins Tri-Club Crown
Don Feller, who became professional at the Escanaba Golf club after winning the Upper Peninsula amateur championship two years in a row, annexed the Tri-Club Delta county tournament at Highland yesterday afternoon by defeating Dick Harris, 6 and 4.

Feller fired one-under-par golf at young Harris to win the title. With a 35 going out the Escanaba pro was four up at the turn. He lost the tenth to Harris' par but closed out the match when he won 12, 13 and 14 in a row with narrow-birdie against Harris' bogey-bogey-par.

In continuing the Tri-Club tournament, Feller played the best tournament golf of his career. He was three under par for the tournament, one under in beating Tony Cass, even in disposing of Jim Douglas and one under in each match against Eddy Anderson in the semifinals and Harris in yesterday's finals.

KIWANIS PLANS MINSTREL SHOW

Entertainment Will Be Held Nov. 8 And 9

The Escanaba Kiwanis club will sponsor a minstrel show at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium on Monday and Tuesday nights, Nov. 8 and 9, it was announced today by Vernon Berg, minstrel chairman.

Some of Escanaba's best singers and performers will take part in the show. Proceeds will be used for the Kiwanis club's underprivileged children's fund.

The Four Pipes, local barber shop quartet, entertained the Kiwanis club today. Ernest Peterson announced the plans for the Upper Peninsula Barber Shop Parade to be held here on Oct. 16. Nine of the best quartets in the country will be brought here for special singing. Quartets of the Upper Peninsula also will compete.

Wolverines Face Rugged Task In Defense Of Title

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—The die was cast in the University of Michigan football camp today. And it read "improve or fall."

The critical attitude was brought home to the Western Conference and Rose Bowl champions by the erstwhile pawns of the mighty Wolverines—Michigan State college.

The Spartans extended Michigan for 60 minutes Saturday before losing 13-7 and changed the Wolverine status from an unbeatable machine to a highly-vulnerable squad that will have to fight for survival.

The club that was never in trouble last year in smashing nine regular season foes and University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl is now a fair target for its six Big Nine opponents and the two remaining intersectional clubs on its schedule.

The answer will not be long in coming, either.

Just five short practice sessions and Michigan opens its home season against a stout western invader, Oregon, which trounced Santa Barbara 35-7 and Saturday clipped Stanford 20-12.

Then comes big trouble in the form of a tough and highly-regarded Purdue club that narrowly missed beating powerful Notre Dame Saturday 28-27.

With this prospect, Coach Ben Oosterbaan will start the task today on mending the holes punched in the Wolverine combine by the surprising Spartans.

Israeli Shoot Down Plane, Two British Newsmen Are Killed

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 27 (AP)—The Israeli government confirmed today that one of its fighters shot down an Arab plane in which two British correspondents were killed last week.

David Woodford of the London Daily Telegraph and John Nixon of the BBC perished when the plane crashed in flames.

In explaining the incident, Jewish authorities said Arab planes of this same type had been over Jewish lines in the Safad area repeatedly in recent weeks on what they assumed to be reconnaissance flights.

When the plane carrying the correspondents was seen Thursday, it was approached by an Israeli fighter which signalled it to land, the Israeli government said. Then the Israeli fighter fired a warning burst. When this shot was disregarded, the Arab plane was shot down, a spokesman said.

DOW IN FINALS

Midland, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Dow Athletic Club of Midland advanced to the world series finals of softball last night here by dropping Racine, Wis., 3-0 in the windup game of a National Softball league finals. Dow will meet Buffalo, N. Y. Sept. 29 in the opening game of a best four-out-of-seven series to determine the world softball champion.

Mrs. Amalia Thorsen, Stonington, Is Dead, Funeral Thursday

Mrs. Amalia Thorsen, 74, of Stonington, widow of Martin Thorsen, died at St. Francis hospital this morning at 5:30 o'clock. She had been in poor health for some time and was a hospital patient for the past ten days.

She was born in Stegen, Norway, June 7, 1874, and had lived at Stonington for 37 years. She was a member of Trinity Lutheran church and of the Ladies' Aid society.

Surviving are one son, Peder Thorsen, of Stonington, who is sailing on the Great Lakes, and two grandchildren, Elaine and Gerald Thorsen, of Stonington.

The body will be in state at the Anderson funeral home Wednesday afternoon and Thursday noon will be taken to Trinity church where Rev. L. R. Lund will conduct services at 1:30 p. m. Burial will be in Lakewood cemetery.

Sigler Will Open His Campaign At Mt. Pleasant Oct. 4

Lansing, Sept. 27 (AP)—Governor Sigler will open his formal reelection campaign before a 16-county rally at Mt. Pleasant Oct. 4.

Republicans from the Tenth Congressional district and Clinton and Gratiot counties have been invited to the Central Michigan College of Education auditorium for the evening meeting. The party made plans to handle 2,000 persons.

Sigler's rally will be preceded by a banquet in Keeler Union, sponsored by the Rotary club of Mt. Pleasant.

Sigler prepared to put the G. O. P. campaign into high gear. He called a meeting for Wednesday of the Republican high command and the state ticket nominated at the Detroit convention Saturday.

Campaign itineraries and radio schedules will be mapped then.

Wife Found Beaten To Death; Husband Held In Kalamazoo

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Michael Davidovich, 55, was held in the Kalamazoo county jail today for investigation in connection with the fatal beating of his wife.

The body of Davidovich's wife, Anna, 54, was found by officers on the kitchen floor of the couple's home.

Coroner Horace Cobb, who performed the autopsy, stated that the woman suffered fractured ribs, internal injuries and shock, which caused her death.

Officers said Davidovich was unable to give a coherent account of the tragedy.

Neighbors said they overheard the Davidovichs quarreling before the woman's body was discovered.

Confession of Spy To Highlight House Atom Theft Report

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP)—The partial confession of a one-time spy will highlight the promised Congressional report on efforts to steal America's atomic secrets, it was said today.

This word came from the House Un-American Activities committee which is drafting the document after a three-month inquiry into an alleged Russian spy ring.

The report is scheduled to be made public some time this week. A committee source said the key witness was one of the principals involved in the atomic espionage.

He said this witness made "some admissions" and the "essence" of the report is based on this testimony.

Scores of persons, including scientists, professors, top Army officers and avowed Communists, were called during the closed-door hearings.

LOCKED IN TRUNK

Detroit (AP)—Taxicab driver James Gfell, 43, was held up and locked in the trunk of his cab Sunday by a man who robbed him of $35. Gfell released himself after half an hour by using a screwdriver to remove the trunk door.

MSC, Conquered 13-7 By Wolves, To Meet Hawaii

East Lansing, Spt. 27 (AP)—Michigan State college's football team, which outgained Michigan last Saturday and outscored the Wolverines in the last 56 minutes of play only to lose, 13-7, today looked forward to Saturday's "breather" with the University of Hawaii here.

And M. S. C. fans—still talking about the way their Spartans held the 1947 Rose Bowl champions in the dedication of Macklin field stadium—hoped the "breather" would prepare the team for its second tough encounter two weeks hence with Notre Dame at South Bend. The Irish had a narrow squeeze last week over Purdue, 28-27.

The 34-man Hawaii squad arrived by plane from Honolulu yesterday and set up quarters at a Lansing hotel. Daily drills will be held at M. S. C. until Saturday. The squad will visit Lansing automobile plants, service clubs and other organizations during their week's stay here.

Head coach Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn was more than pleased with the showing of the M. S. C. team against Michigan. "A couple of breaks, and it would have been a different ball game," he commented.

Munn said the turning point of the game came in the fourth period when a holding penalty against State gave Michigan a first down just when it looked like the Wolverines' sustained drive might be stopped. They went on to score their second touchdown.

A last minute Spartan pass into the end zone—intended for end Warren Huey—was intercepted.

Only Six Attend G. A. R. Convention At Grand Rapids

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 27 (AP)—Business sessions of the 82nd Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic open here today with the gavel being taken over by the youngest of the six Civil War veterans in attendance.

The presiding officer will be 99-year-old Theodore A. Penland, of Portland, Ore., senior vice commander.

Oldest of the half dozen attending the reunion is James A. Hard, 107, of Rochester, N. Y. Hard arrived here in a special plane as guest of the Gannett Newspapers of New York.

Another making the trip here by air was Charles L. Chappel, 102, of Long Beach, Calif. Chappel made the entire journey from Long Beach here alone.

The three others attending also are centenarians: John H. Grate, 103, of Atwater, O., Chaplain-in-chief; William H. Osborn, 104, of Joplin, Mo., and Albert Woodson, 101, of Duluth, Minn.

The encampment opened officially Sunday with a memorial service at which tributes to the GAR were paid by representatives of allied organizations. The convention ends Thursday.

TREE TRIMMER TRAPPED

Detroit (AP)—A professional tree trimmer, Harry Fox, 17, was hospitalized Sunday from injuries received while at work. Fox was injured when a limb he was sawing from a tree swung around and pinned him to the trunk.

That toss could have spelled victory for M. S. C.

Munn ordered a light drill Monday for the players who saw action Saturday, and a scrimmage for those who were on the bench.

Packers No Match For Bears, 45-7

New York, Sept. 27 (AP)—A reminder from the Chicago Bears to the rest of the National Football League:

"Let Lujack, Layne and Luckman loose and you'll lose."

The three L's put on a mighty demonstration at Green Bay yesterday to prove the point. Lujack, first name Johnny, late of Notre Dame, scored one touchdown, stole three Packer passes and kicked two extra points. Layne, first name Bobby, late of Texas, pitched 34 yards for a touchdown. And Luckman, first name Sid, who was a bear when the other two were barely cubs in high school, capped them all with five of eight completions including two tosses for touchdowns.

It added up to a 45-7 rout of the Packers, the worst licking they've ever taken in 60 games with the big bad Bruins from Chicago.

The Bears net exactly one week and a day to rest on their laurels. Next Monday night they venture into the unfriendly surroundings of Chicago's South Side for a bout with the Cardinals, defending National league champions. The Cards tamed the Bears twice last season, something no other team accomplished.

In the only other National game played yesterday Washington got its 1948 season off to a successful start against the Pittsburgh Steelers on the strength of the aging right arm of Sammy Baugh and a last minute field goal by Dick Poillon.

With 60 seconds left and the game tied, Baugh gained 59 yards on two passes and Poillon booted the winning three points from 28 yards out. The final score was 17-14 for the Redskins.

Lou Claims Tribe Is In

By Joe Reichler

Cleveland, Sept. 27 (AP)—Lou Boudreau flatly predicted today that his Cleveland Indians would win the American league pennant. "I sincerely believe we're in now," the happy pilot declared. It was the first time this year that Boudreau did not add any "ifs," "ands," or "buts," while talking pennant.

More relaxed than at any time this season, the handsome, collegiate-looking playing leader beamed all over as he talked about Bob Feller's 4-1 victory over Hal Newhouser and the Tigers in Detroit.

"That was the big one," he emphasized. "Yesterday's game meant the pennant for us. It was more important than our 'must' victory over the Boston Red Sox last Wednesday. They've got to catch us now."

"We had to beat Boston Wednesday to remain in the race," Lou explained. "A defeat then would have dropped us two full games behind the Red Sox. That might have been a terrific blow to our morale. Yesterday's triumph, however, coupled with Boston's defeat by the Yankees in New York, I firmly believe, decided the race."

Both Cleveland and the Californians got first half scares yesterday, then recovered as expected. The Browns trailed Chicago 10-0 at the intermission, but the final score was 21-10 for Cleveland.

San Francisco, playing away from home for the first time this year, made it five straight victories with a 38-28 decision over Buffalo.
